Demands Of The Day On The Logic Of Anthropological Inquiry:

Demands of the Day Paul Rabinow, Anthony Stavrianakis, 2013-05-23 Demands of the Day asks about the logical standards and forms that should guide ethical and experimental anthropology in the twenty first century Anthropologists Paul Rabinow and Anthony Stavrianakis do so by taking up Max Weber's notion of the demands of the day Just as the demand of the day for anthropology decades ago consisted of thinking about fieldwork today they argue the demand is to examine what happens after how the experiences of fieldwork are gathered curated narrated and ultimately made available for an anthropological practice that moves beyond mere ethnographic description Rabinow and Stavrianakis draw on experiences from an innovative set of anthropological experiments that investigated how and whether the human and biological sciences could be brought into a mutually enriching relationship Conceptualizing the anthropological and philosophic ramifications of these inquiries they offer a bold challenge to contemporary anthropology to undertake a more rigorous examination of its own practices blind spots and capacities in order to meet the demands of our day

Contemporary Identity and Memory in the Borderlands of Poland and Germany Aleksandra Binicewicz, 2018-09-30 The book analyses issues associated with the contemporary and memory in the Polish German borderlands a complex multidimensional cultural and geographic area The first section of the book which focuses on contemporary issues is divided into three parts namely a theoretical body records of conversations with the inhabitants of the borderlands who are engaged in social activities and records of workshops and conversations that brought together teenage inhabitants of the borderlands Close cooperation with the inhabitants of two borderland towns resulted in several interesting perspectives on the borderlands which are seen as a physical space as well as a mental intimate close and sometimes frustrating space subject to micro and macro scale transformations In this book the borderlands are viewed from these two perspectives The micro scale is marked out by the individual experience of the inhabitants of the borderlands and the macro scale by the institutional framework established for the purpose of constructing

Ringel, 2018-03-26 How does an urban community come to terms with the loss of its future The former socialist model city of Hoyerswerda is an extreme case of a declining postindustrial city Built to serve the GDR coal industry it lost over half its population to outmigration after German reunification and the coal industry crisis leading to the large scale deconstruction of its cityscape This book tells the story of its inhabitants now forced to reconsider their futures Building on recent theoretical work it advances a new anthropological approach to time allowing us to investigate the postindustrial era and the futures it has supposedly lost The Composition of Anthropology Morten Nielsen, Nigel Rapport, 2017-12-14 How do anthropologists write their texts What is the nature of creativity in the discipline of anthropology This book follows anthropologists into spaces where words ideas and arguments take shape and explores the steps in a creative process In a unique examination of how texts come to be composed the editors bring together a distinguished group of anthropologists who offer valuable insight into their writing habits These reflexive glimpses into personal creativity reveal not only the processes by which theory and ethnography come in particular cases to be represented on the page but also supply examples that students may follow or adapt
