Child And Family Assessment In Social Work Practice:

Child and Family Assessment in Social Work Practice Sally Holland, 2004-03-06 This is an essential guide for both social work students and practitioners involved in the assessment of children and their families It is a guide for practice that is strongly rooted in research evidence Social Work Practice with Individuals and Families Michael J. Holosko, Catherine N. Dulmus, Karen M. Sowers, 2012-12-27 A lifespan approach presenting evidence informed interventions for working with individuals and families Social Work Practice with Individuals and Families covers assessment of and intervention with children adolescents adults the elderly and families It offers an array of pedagogical features within each chapter as well as online resources and review questions at the conclusion of each chapter to help guide critical thinking about topics Reflecting the current state of evidence informed social work practice each chapter's contributors emphasize the incorporation of wider forms of systematically collected data such as case studies best or promising practices and consumer focused data Reading this book will not only give readers the tools to work effectively with individuals and families but also develop their skills in evidence informed practice Comprehensive and insightful Social Work Practice with Individuals and Families is a student and practitioner friendly text identifying the best assessment tools and strategies available for social workers to successfully serve individuals and families facing a broad range of challenges Putting Analysis Into Child and Family Assessment, Third Edition Ruth Dalzell, Emma Sawyer, 2016-03-21 Putting Analysis into Child and Family Assessment bridges theory and practice and provides clear guidance to improve assessments in child and family social work It addresses the issues of central concern to child and family social workers including analytical assessment outlines how to avoid common pitfalls provides strong theoretical foundations and demonstrates how the theory can be translated into practice With reference to common and specialist assessments the book covers every stage of the assessment process planning and preparation hypothesising involving children and making recording and reviewing decisions It features practice tools case studies and practice development sessions and activities This third edition has been fully updated with recent policy changes and new research findings This book will be valued by practitioners managers trainers and lecturers looking for a grounded resource which provides practical guidance on how to improve assessments Making Sense of Child and Family Assessment Duncan Helm, 2010 Analysing children's needs is a crucial part of assessment in child protection yet support for practitioners carrying it out is lacking Making Sense of Child and Family Assessment provides best practice guidance on how to analyse the information gathered during the assessment of the needs of children and young people and their families The application of assessment frameworks hinges on human qualities and skills which are naturally prone to bias and inconsistency This book provides practical accessible guidance on how to apply assessment frameworks successfully how to increase accuracy and empathy and how to analyse and represent children's needs faithfully in order to improve outcomes The author provides an overview of key elements of theory research and practice and covers issues such as how information is gathered and analysed by different professionals in different sectors and how this information is shared how to form accurate hypotheses about cases how to develop professional intuition and how to improve analytical skills

Professionals working in child welfare and protection roles such as social workers health visitors midwives and teachers will find this practical guide to analysis invaluable in interpreting needs and outcomes The titles in the Best Practice in Working with Children series are written for the multi agency professionals working to promote children s welfare and protect them from harm Each book in the series draws on current research into what works best for children providing practical realistic suggestions as to how practitioners in social work health and education can work together to promote the resilience and safety of the children in their care Brigid Daniel is Professor of Social Work in the Department of Applied Social Science at the University of Stirling She is co author of several textbooks and practice resources on child care and protection She was a member of the multi disciplinary team that carried out a national ministerial review of child protection practice in Scotland

Mastering Whole Family Assessment in Social Work Fiona Mainstone,2014-01-21 How do you balance the needs of children adults and their families when carrying out social work assessments With tools and frameworks that make sense of the interface between adult problems and children s safety this guide will help social workers generate high quality assessments that consider the well being of both adults and children An Introduction to Family Social Work Donald Collins,Catheleen Jordan,Heather Coleman,1999 This text provides beginning students with the knowledge and skills necessary for family social work Not a family therapy text it is intended for students who will work with families but who will not necessarily undertake advanced training in family therapy Chapters 1 and 2 present a philosophical perspective and provide an understanding of family functions Chapters 3 and 4 treat family assessment and Chapters 5 through 10 lead students through the actual process of working with families The concluding chapters discuss gender and culturally sensitive practice and cover special situations that family social workers may encounter in working with children and adults The

Child and Family Assessment Elaine Nembhard,2019-03-24 Child and Family Assessment Notebook for Children Social Workers Our A4 Child and Family Assessment Notebook contain key points that are crucial to protection and safeguard Included are pointers from The Children Act 1989 and 2004 definitions from Working together to safeguard children and the Assessment Framework for Assessment of Children in Need and their Families commonly called the triangle The notes at the front of the Notebook acts as a useful reference point It will be of particular use to less experienced social workers and invaluable to students and newly qualified social workers It will help you to carry out assessments in a structured manner that is not too far removed from what you do on Children Integrated System CIS or similar The Notebook is designed to support you to be more organised effective and efficient No more making notes on notepads or scraps of paper which can get easily mislaid Keeping your notes together ensure you have all your visits in one place and can find them easily If you use an ordinary notepad or notebook to gather the information for assessments then switch to this one as it has been specifically designed with you in mind Its purpose is to help you to be more organised as part of our strategy to get you to work Smarter Not Harder The beauty of this organiser is you will hang on to it because it s designed with you in mind We want you to have something that is a little different and hopefully it will help you get organised and be able to work smarter instead of harder It doesn t always have to be serious so check out our other themed notebooks with fun captions for social workers Social Work Practice with Fathers Jennifer L. Bellamy,Brianna P. Lemmons,Qiana R. Cryer-Coupet,Jennifer A. Shadik,2022-10-31 Social workers need to work with fathers across many service systems but lack guidance on how to do so and most engagement assessment and intervention work for family serving systems is mother and child focused Father inclusive readings and resources are also limited Drawing on the expertise of well regarded research and practice experts in the field this comprehensive book provides guidance to social work practitioners and researchers on how to engage assess and serve fathers Instructors can use the text to include fathers in courses on the human behavior and social environment family systems clinical practice diversity or service systems Social service systems unfortunately have often struggled to positively engage men as parents Recent demographic trends indicate that fathers are providing more direct care to children and single father households are one of the most rapidly growing demographic groups in the United States Barriers to their successful engagement include biases and assumptions about men and fathers a lack of father friendly policies and practices in the field limited training on how to work with fathers and relatively limited father inclusive social work research until recently This book addresses these barriers It is a guide to social workers in their efforts to better serve men as parents and does so from an ecological and systems perspective Multiple case examples and practical tools are provided as well as specific content on major social service systems Topics explored include Father Engagement Organizational Father Friendly Assessments Interventions with Fathers Setting the Course for Future Theory Research and Practice with Fathers Social Work Practice with Fathers Engagement Assessment and Intervention is a book that could be folded into foundation courses in social work or used by practitioners in the field It is an essential text for graduate students in social work psychology sociology child development allied health and similar disciplines and professions and a go to resource for helping professionals practitioners such as social workers psychologists and licensed professional counselors Advanced undergraduate students in these disciplines and professions also will find the text useful in their studies and work Family Assessment Handbook Barbara Thomlison,2002 THE FAMILY ASSESSMENT HANDBOOK is a basic practice guide for social work students and beginning human service professionals of how to do a family assessment for case intervention It is based on person environment or family systems theory drawing from evidence based research for guiding practice decisions This practical book presents the interplay of social work concepts values and skill dilemmas presented using case studies from the author s practice experience By developing a family journal students can apply family systems thinking theory and concepts The book is conceptualized as three teaching and learning units Part One addresses the family systems assessment model Part Two focuses on self assessment and critical thinking through exploring the student s family system Part Three includes four case studies
