Metaphor and Imagination in Medieval Jewish Thought Dianna Lynn Roberts-Zauderer, 2019-12-12 This book reveals how Moses ibn Ezra Judah Halevi Moses Maimonides and Shem Tov ibn Falaquera understood metaphor and imagination and their role in the way human beings describe God It demonstrates how these medieval Jewish thinkers engaged with Arabic Aristotelian psychology specifically with regard to imagination and its role in cognition Dianna Lynn Roberts Zauderer reconstructs the process by which metaphoric language is taken up by the imagination and the role of imagination in rational thought If imagination is a necessary component of thinking how is Maimonides idea of pure intellectual thought possible An examination of select passages in the Guide in both Judeo Arabic and translation shows how Maimonides attitude towards imagination develops and how translations contribute to a bifurcation of reason and imagination that does not acknowledge the nuances of the original text Finally the author shows how Falaquera s poetics forges a new direction for thinking about imagination Singularity and Transnational Poetics

Birgit Mara Kaiser,2014-12-05 Over the past decade singularity has been a prominent term in a broad range of fields ranging from philosophy to literary and cultural studies to science and technology studies This volume intervenes in this broad discussion of singularity and its various implications proposing to explore the term for its specific potential in the study of literature Singularity and Transnational Poetics brings together scholars working in the fields of literary and cultural studies translation studies and transnational literatures The volume s central concern is to explore singularity as a conceptual tool for the comparative study of contemporary literatures beyond national frameworks and by implication as a tool to analyze human existence Contributors explore how singularity might move our conceptions of cultural identity from prevailing frameworks of self other toward the premises of being as singular plural Through a close reading of transnational literatures from Ireland Germany the Netherlands France and South Africa this collection offers a new approach to reading literature that will challenge a reader s established notions of identity individuality communicability and social cohesion A
