Defining Memory Defining Memory:

Defining Memory Amy K. Levin, Joshua G. Adair, 2017-10-20 This updated edition of Defining Memory Local Museums and the Construction of History in America's Changing Communities offers readers multiple lenses for viewing and discussing local institutions New chapters are included in a section titled Museums Moving Forward which analyzes the ways in which local museums have come to adopt digital technologies in selecting items for exhibitions as well as the complexities of creating institutions devoted to marginalized histories In addition to the new chapters the second edition updates existing chapters presenting changes to the museums discussed It features expanded discussions of how local museums treat or ignore racial and ethnic diversity and concludes with a look at how business relationships political events and the economy affect what is shown and how it is displayed in local museums

Memory and Popular Film Paul Grainge, 2003-09-06

Taking Hollywood as its focus this timely book provides a sustained interdisciplinary perspective on memory and film from early cinema to the present Considering the relationship between official and popular memory the politics of memory and the technological and representational shifts that have come to effect memory's contemporary mediation the book contributes to the growing debate on the status and function of the past in cultural life and discourse By gathering key critics from film studies American studies and cultural studies Memory and Popular Film establishes a framework for discussing issues of memory in film and of film as memory Together with essays on the remembered past in early film marketing within popular reminiscence and at film festivals the book considers memory films such as Forrest Gump Lone Star Pleasantville Rosewood and Jackie Brown

Handbook of Research Methods in Human Memory Hajime Otani, Bennett L. Schwartz, 2018-10-09

The Handbook of Research Methods in Human Memory presents a collection of chapters on methodology used by researchers in investigating human memory Understanding the basic cognitive function of human memory is critical in a wide variety of fields such as clinical psychology developmental psychology education neuroscience and gerontology and studying memory has become particularly urgent in recent years due to the prominence of a number of neurodegenerative diseases such as Alzheimer's However choosing the most appropriate method of research is a daunting task for most scholars This book explores the methods that are currently available in various areas of human memory research and serves as a reference manual to help guide readers own research Each chapter is written by prominent researchers and features cutting edge research on human memory and cognition with topics ranging from basic memory processes to cognitive neuroscience to further applications The focus here is not on the what but the how how research is best conducted on human memory The Book of Memory Mary J. Carruthers,1992-05-14 The Book of Memory is a magisterial and beautifully illustrated account of the workings and function of memory in medieval society Memory was the psychological faculty valued above all others in the period stretching from late antiquity through the Renaissance The prominence given to memory has profound implications for the contemporary understanding of all creative activity and the social role of literature and art Drawing on a range of fascinating examples from Dante Chaucer and Aquinas to the symbolism of illuminated manuscripts this unusually wide ranging book offers new insights into the medieval world Memory and Emotion Bob Uttl,Nobuo Ohta,Amy Siegenthaler,2008-04-15 Memory and Emotion Interdisciplinary Perspectives is a collection of original articles that explores cutting edge research in memory and emotion discussing findings methodological techniques and theoretical advances in one of the fastest growing areas in psychology contains contributions by leading researchers the field emphasizes cognitive neuroscience psychopathology and aging in covering contemporary advances in research on memory and emotion covers many of the current hot topics in the field including dissociative amnesia and post traumatic stress disorder false recovered and traumatic memories flashbulb memories the use of emotional memories in therapy and the influence of emotion on autobiographical memory The Organization and Structure of Autobiographical Memory John H. Mace,2019 This book explores the organization and structure of autobiographical memory Based on over thirty years of research and the latest empirical findings it presents the major theories and problems in the science of autobiographical memory organization Rethinking Implicit Memory Jeffrey S. Bowers,Chad J. Marsolek,2003 Implicit memory refers to a change in task performance due to an earlier experience that is not consciously remembered The topic of implicit memory has been studied from two quite different perspectives for the past 20 years On the one hand researchers interested in memory have set out to characterize the memory system or systems underlying implicit memory and see how they relate to those underlying other forms of memory The alternative framework has considered implicit memory as a by product of perceptual conceptual or motor systems that learn That is on this view the systems that support implicit memory are heavily constrained by pressures other than memory per se Both approaches have yielded results that have been valuable in helping us to understand the nature of implicit memory but studied somewhat in isolation and with little collaboration This volume is unique in explicitly contrasting these approaches bringing together world class scientists from both camps in an attempt to forge a new approach to understanding one of the most exciting and important issues in psychology and neuroscience Written for postgraduate students and researchers in cognitive psychology and cognitive neuroscience this is a book that will have an important influence on the direction that future research in this field takes Learning and Memory David A.
