Three Early Modern Utopias Thomas More, Francis Bacon, Henry Neville, 1999-11-04 Thomas More Utopia Francis Bacon New Atlantis Henry Neville The Isle of Pines With the publication of Utopia 1516 Thomas More introduced into the English language not only a new word but a new way of thinking about the gulf between what ought to be and what is His Utopia is at once a scathing analysis of the shortcomings of his own society a realistic suggestion for an alternative mode of social organization and a satire on unrealistic idealism Enormously influential it remains a challenging as well as a playful text This edition reprints Ralph Robinson's 1556 translation from More's original Latin together with letters and illustrations that accompanied early editions of Utopia Utopia was only one of many early modern treatments of other worlds This edition also includes two other hitherto less accessible utopian narratives New Atlantis 1627 offers a fictional illustration of Francis Bacon's visionary ideal of the role that science should play in the modern society Henry Neville's The Isle of Pines 1668 a precursor of Defoe's Robinson Crusoe engages with some of the sexual racial and colonialist anxieties of the end of the early modern period Together these texts illustrate the diversity of the early modern utopian imagination as well as the different purposes to which it could be put ABOUT THE SERIES For over

Performing a Christian Life Thomas D. Kennedy, 2019-11-13 We want to live good lives but determining what a good life is isn't easy, especially if we want the lives we lead to be ours rather than somebody else's. Tom Kennedy helps us see why it is hard to find our way when it comes to living well and what we can do about that. Finding our way requires knowing who we are, understanding ourselves and Christians because of their experience with God will understand themselves differently than others in at least some ways. Kennedy explores that understanding and discovers that Christian encounters with God lead to beliefs about God, human nature, forgiveness, values, and loving well that have important implications for what we do and feel for how we should live. In clear and familiar language and with probing questions, he helps us think more carefully and deeply about our identities and what it should look like for us to live well.

Timaeus and Critias Plato, 2008-11-13 In Timaeus, Plato attempts to describe and explain the structure of the universe: the creator god, the elements, the lower gods, the stars, and men. The companion piece Critias is the origin of the story of Atlantis, the lost empire defeated by ancient Athenians. This is the clearest translation yet of these crucial ancient texts.

Troilus and Criseyde Geoffrey Chaucer, 2008-11-13 Chaucer's masterpiece and one of the greatest narrative poems in English, the story of the lovers Troilus and Criseyde is renowned for its deep humanity and penetrating psychological insight. This new translation into modern English by a major Chaucerian scholar includes an index of the names relating to the Trojan War and an Index of Proverbs.

Selected Speeches Demosthenes, 2014-05-08 Even if everyone else succumbs to slavery, we must still fight for our freedom. Admired by many in the ancient world as the greatest of the classic Athenian orators, Demosthenes was intimately involved in the political events of his day. As well as showing a master orator at work, his speeches are a prime source for the history of the period when Athens was engaged in a doomed struggle against the rising power of Macedon under the brilliant father and son Philip and Alexander. Demosthenes wrote for the courts both for political trials in which he was involved and for other cases in which he acted as ghost writer for plaintiff or defendant, and his lawcourt speeches give an unrivalled glimpse of the daily life of ancient Athens. He also played a central role in education in Greece and Rome from the Hellenistic period onward and was imitated by the greatest of Roman orators, Cicero. This selection includes the fullest range of Demosthenes' speeches for trials, both public and private, and for the assembly, in a single volume.

Poetics Aristotle, 2013-01-10 A founding text of European aestheticism and literary criticism, Poetics underpins our modern understanding of imaginative writing. Anthony Kenny's new translation is accompanied by associated material from Plato, Sir Philip Sidney, P. B. Shelley, and Dorothy L. Sayers, and a wide-ranging introduction.

The Plays and Fragments Menander, 2008-05-08 The greatest writer of Greek New Comedy and the founding father of European comedy.

Menander c 341 290 BC wrote over one hundred plays of which only one complete play and substantial fragments of others survive This new verse translation is accurate and highly readable providing a consecutive text by using surviving words in the damaged papyri
