Defending The Strait Taiwans Naval Strategy In The 21st Century:

Defending the Strait James Holmes, Toshi Yoshihara, 2011 From the author of the New York Times best selling Constantine's Sword a novel set in post World War II Rome where the fate of recently liberated Jews and the Church's dark wartime secrets intertwine US Grand Strategy in the 21st Century A. Trevor Thrall, Benjamin H. Friedman, 2018-01-29

This book challenges the dominant strategic culture and makes the case for restraint in US grand strategy in the 21st century Grand strategy meaning a state's theory about how it can achieve national security for itself is elusive That is particularly true in the United States where the division of federal power and the lack of direct security threats limit consensus about how to manage danger This book seeks to spur more vigorous debate on US grand strategy To do so the first half of the volume assembles the most recent academic critiques of primacy the dominant strategic perspective in the United States today The contributors challenge the notion that US national security requires a massive military huge defense spending and frequent military intervention around the world The second half of the volume makes the positive case for a more restrained foreign policy by excavating the historical roots of restraint in the United States and illustrating how restraint might work in practice in the Middle East and elsewhere The volume concludes with assessments of the political viability of foreign policy restraint in the United States today This book will be of much interest to students of US foreign policy grand strategy national security and International Relations in general Chinese Naval Strategy in the 21st Century James R. Holmes, Toshi Yoshihara, 2012-09-10 Alfred Thayer Mahan has been called America's nineteenth century evangelist of sea power and the intellectual father of the modern US Navy His theories have a timeless appeal and Chinese analysts now routinely invoke Mahan's writings exhorting their nation to build a powerful navy Economics is the prime motivation for maritime reorientation and securing the sea lanes that convey foreign energy supplies and other commodities now ranks near or at the top of China's list of military priorities This book is the first systematic effort to test the interplay between Western military thought and Chinese strategic traditions vis vis the nautical arena It uncovers some universal axioms about how theories of sea power influence the behaviour of great powers and examines how Mahanian thought could shape China's encounters on the high seas Empirical analysis adds a new dimension to the current debate over China's rise and its importance for international relations The findings also clarify the possible implications of China's maritime rise for the United States and illuminate how the two powers can manage their bilateral interactions on the high seas Chinese Naval Strategy in the 21st Century will be of much interest to students of naval history Chinese politics and security studies

Strategy in Asia Thomas G Mahnken, Dan Blumenthal, 2023-05-25 Helps to articulate those pressing strategic questions necessary in formulating and executing American strategy in this critical part of the world Military Review Some of the United States greatest challenges over the coming decades are likely to emanate from the Asia Pacific region with China's and India's rise and the persistence of militant Islam in parts of South and Central Asia and the threat of nuclear proliferation continuing in fits and starts If America is to meet these challenges comprehensively strategists will have to learn more about Asia and Asian scholars policymakers and analysts will need to understand better the enduring and timeless principles of strategy Based on the premise therefore that the increasing strategic weight of the Asia Pacific region warrants greater attention from both scholars and practitioners alike Strategy in Asia The Past Present and Future of Regional Security aims to marry the fields of strategic studies and Asian studies in order to help academics and practitioners to begin addressing these challenges The book uses the lenses of geography culture and economics to examine in depth the strategic context that Asia presents to the major nations of the region including the U S as a Pacific nation and the strategic scenarios that may well play out in the region in the future Specific attention is paid to Asia as a warfighting environment and to the warfighting traditions and current postures of the major nations Opens windows into the key lenses of strategic studies namely history geography and politics and secondarily culture and economics Asian Politics and Policy Security Studies in a New Era of Maritime Competition Jonathan D. Caverley, Peter Dombrowski, 2023-06-06 How do two conventionally powerful nuclear armed but commercially oriented great powers reliant on sea lanes and global maritime infrastructure engage in a long term strategic rivalry When do such competitions lead to crisis instability and even war This book presents a research agenda using a variety of methods to explore this unique competitive environment for China and the United States The most likely great power friction points today are located at sea Any shots fired between China and the United States will likely be between navies and air forces rather than armies While much security studies understandably concentrates on land forces basic concepts such as the importance of territory the offense defense balance technological competition economic warfare and crisis stability do not comfortably apply to maritime competition The chapters in this volume consider the use of naval power including blockades naval diplomacy fleet engagements and nuclear escalation across the spectrum of global politics and international conflict The volume encourages applying the many classic approaches of security studies to this high stakes relationship while considering maritime conflict as distinct from other forms such as land and nuclear that have traditionally occupied the field This work will be of great interest to students of strategic studies international relations maritime security and Asian American politics The chapters in this book were originally published as a special issue of Security Studies

America Abroad Stephen G. Brooks, William C. Wohlforth, 2016-07-26 A decade and a half of exhausting wars punishing economic setbacks and fast rising rivals has called into question America's fundamental position and purpose in world politics Will the US continue to be the only superpower in the international system Should it continue advancing the world shaping grand strategy it has followed since the Cold War Or should it focus on internal problems America Abroad takes stock of these debates and provides a powerful defense of American globalism Since the end of World War Two world politics has been shaped by two constants America's position as the most powerful state and its strategic choice to be deeply engaged in the world But if America disengages from the world and reduces its footprint overseas core US security and acted as a learning curve accelerator to blue water status McDevitt then explores the PLA Navy's role in the South China Sea and the Indian Ocean He provides a detailed assessment of what the PLAN will be expected to do if Beijing chooses to attack Taiwan potentially triggering combat with America's first responders in East Asia especially the U S Seventh Fleet and U S Fifth Air Force He conducts a close exploration of how the PLA Navy fits into China's campaign plan aimed at keeping reinforcing U S forces at arm's length what the Pentagon calls anti access and area denial A2 AD if war has broken out over Taiwan or because of attacks on U S allies and friends that live in the shadow of China McDevitt does not know how Xi defines world class but the evidence from the past 15 years of building a blue water force has already made the PLA Navy the second largest globally capable navy in the world This book concludes with a forecast of what Xi's vision of a world class navy might look like in the next fifteen years when the 2035 deadline is reached
