Assessing Disciplinary Writing in Both Research and Practice Wright, Katherine Landau, Hodges, Tracey S., 2023-08-01. Assessing Disciplinary Writing in Both Research and Practice tackles the challenge of measuring writing skills in specific content areas, which is crucial for preparing students to communicate as field experts and for their future careers. Edited by Katherine Wright, Associate Professor of Literacy and Language at Boise State University, and Tracey Hodges, Founder and Lead Consultant of The Empowering Advocate, this book provides solutions by bringing together validated measures and practical assessment strategies that can be used in both research and instruction. The book's theoretical foundations cover multimodal disciplinary writing, assessing disciplinary writing versus content area writing, and using assessment as a tool for disciplinary writing instruction. Practical methods for assessing writing in social studies, science, mathematics, English, and language arts, and other genres at the elementary, middle, and high school levels are included, as well as assessment strategies for specific populations of students, such as undergraduate students, English learners, gifted and talented students, special needs students, and incarcerated students. This highly valued reference is essential for academic scholars, K-12 teachers, and educational researchers who want to improve writing instruction and research in content and discipline-specific areas. By providing validated measures and methods for assessing disciplinary writing, this edited book helps bridge the gap between research and practice and enables practitioners to better measure student growth and improve writing instruction. This publication is the first step towards advancing research and improving writing instruction in content and discipline-specific areas.

Exploring Delaware Through Project-Based Learning Carole Marsh, 2016-05-17. Exploring Delaware through Project Based Learning includes 50 well-thought-out projects designed for grades 3-5. In assigning your students projects that dig into Delaware's geography, history, government, economy, current events, and famous people, you will deepen their appreciation and understanding of Delaware while simultaneously improving their analytical skills and ability to recognize patterns and big picture themes. Project-based learning today is much different than the craft-heavy classroom activities popular in the past. Inquiry, planning, research, collaboration, and analysis are key components of project-based learning activities today. However, that doesn't mean creativity, individual expression, and fun are out. They definitely aren't. Each project is designed to help students gain important knowledge and skills that are derived from standards and key concepts at the heart of academic subject areas. Students are asked to analyze and solve problems, to gather and interpret data to develop and evaluate solutions to support their answers with evidence, to think critically in a sustained way, and to use their newfound knowledge to formulate new questions worthy of exploring. While some projects are more complex and take longer than others they all are set up in the same structure Each begins with the central project driving questions proceeds through research and supportive questions has the student choose a presentation option and ends with a broader view inquiry Rubrics for reflection and assessments are included too This consistent framework will make it easier for you assign projects and for your students to follow along and consistently meet expectations Encourage your students to take charge of their projects as much as possible As a teacher you can act as a facilitator and guide The projects are structured such that students can often work through the process on their own or through cooperation with their classmates

From Standards to Rubrics in Six Steps Kay Burke, 2010-10-18 Featuring a comprehensive six step process for moving from standards to rubrics this updated bestseller helps teachers build tasks checklists and rubrics differentiate for special needs and more
