Curriculum Development In Language Teaching Cambridge Language Education:

Curriculum Development in Language Teaching Jack C. Richards, 2001-03-12 1 The origins of language curriculum development 2 From syllabus design to curriculum development 3 Needs analysis 4 Situation analysis 5 Planning goals and learning outcomes 6 Course planning and syllabus design 7 Providing for effective teaching 8 The role and design of instructional materials 9 Approaches to evaluation The Language Teaching Matrix Jack C. Richards, 1990-02-23 For use in courses on language teaching methodology and teacher preparation this book also serves as an invaluable source for courses in language curriculum development materials development and teaching practice The author views effective language teaching as a network of interactions involving the curriculum methodology the teacher the learner and instructional materials hence the metaphor of a matrix Each chapter discusses and examines the theoretical and practical dimensions of a central issue in language teaching Among the topics covered are curriculum development designing instructional materials teaching listening speaking reading and writing the nature of effective teaching self monitoring in teacher development and language and content Richards presents key issues in an accessible and highly readable style and shows how teachers and teachers in training can be involved in the investigation of classroom teaching and learning The emphasis is not on prescriptions but rather on developing effective teaching through understanding the various factors that interact in second language learning and in the second language classroom Curriculum Development in Language Teaching C. Jack Richards, 2001 The Second Language Curriculum Robert Keith Johnson, 1989-04-27 Issues of language curriculum development underlied the planning and implementation of language teaching programmes These papers argue for the process to be made explicit and deal with curriculum planning specification of ends and means programme implementation and classroom implementation International Handbook of English Language Teaching Jim Cummins, Chris Davison, 2007-12-31 This two volume handbook provides a comprehensive examination of policy practice research and theory related to English language teaching ELT in international contexts Nearly 70 chapters highlight the research foundation for the best practices frameworks for policy decisions and areas of consensus and controversy in the teaching and development of English as a second and or additional language for kindergarten through to adult speakers of languages other than English In doing so it problematizes traditional dichotomies and challenges the very terms that provide the traditional foundations of the field A wide range of terms has been used to refer to the key players involved in the teaching and learning of the English language and to the enterprise of English language teaching as a whole At various times and in different contexts the following labels have been used in countries where English is the dominant language to describe programs learners or teachers of English English as a second language ESL English as an additional language EAL limited English proficient LEP and English language learners ELL In contexts where English is not the dominant language the following terms have been used English as a foreign language EFL English as an international language EIL and English as a

lingua franca ELF Developing Materials for Language Teaching Brian Tomlinson, 2013-12-19 There have been a number of books published on various aspects of materials development for language teaching but Developing Materials for Language Teaching is the only one which provides a comprehensive coverage of the main aspects and issues in the field This second edition brings it completely up to date and expands on the original book It deals with advances in IT and an increasingly globalized world It is the only publication which views current developments in materials development through the eyes of developers and users of materials from all over the world In doing so it applies principles to practice in ways demonstrated to facilitate the effectiveness of language learning materials The chapters are written so that the book provides critical overviews of recent developments in materials development and at the same time acts as a stimulus for development and innovation in the field It is intended both for use as a course book on postgraduate and teacher training courses and as a resource for the stimulus and refreshment of teachers publishers and applied linguists in the field The book contains updated versions of many of the chapters in the 2003 edition plus new chapters on corpus informed materials development materials development for blended learning materials development for EAP materials development for ESOL and materials development for young learners Research for Materials Development in Language Learning Brian Tomlinson, Hitomi Masuhara, 2010-11-18 This title examines current research in materials development and discusses their implications for the learning and teaching of languages Recently there has been a dramatic increase in the attention given to materials development as an academic discipline More universities are including modules on materials development on their MA in applied linguistics courses and more students are studying materials development in their PhD research Yet to date there has been no publication focusing on reporting and discussing the results of research in materials development This fills that gap reporting on the results of recent research projects in materials development and discussing their implications for the learning and teaching of languages The editors introduction outlines the rationale scope and objectives of the book and reviews previously published reports of research in materials development There are concluding chapters which point out implications for second language acquisition theory and research methodology The book features suggest applications of the reported research for materials development and proposals for future action in research in materials development for language teaching English Language Education Across Greater China Anwei Feng, 2011-02-01 This volume is the first to offer a comprehensive and at the same time in depth examination of the spread of English and English language education across Greater China It consists of two parts Part 1 presents rich sociolinguistic data for easy comparisons between mainland China Singapore Taiwan Hong Kong and Macao while Part 2 explores in depth the phenomena inside mainland China to provide contrastive analysis of English language use and education in economically booming areas such as Shanghai and Guangdong and underdeveloped regions like Xinjiang and Yunnan With the descriptive comparative and analytical accounts of different territories ranging from nation states to small villages in remote areas theories on the spread
