Penguin Classics Penguin (Firm),2001 Enlightenment and Political Fiction Cecilia Miller,2016-03-22 The easy accessibility of political fiction in the long eighteenth century made it possible for any reader or listener to enter into the intellectual debates of the time as much of the core of modern political and economic theory was to be found first in the fiction not the theory of this age Amusingly many of these abstract ideas were presented for the first time in stories featuring less than gifted central characters The five particular works of fiction examined here which this book takes as embodying the core of the Enlightenment focus more on the individual than on social group Nevertheless in these same works of fiction this individual has responsibilities as well as rights and these responsibilities and rights apply to every individual across the board regardless of social class financial status race age or gender Unlike studies of the Enlightenment which focus only on theory and nonfiction this study of fiction makes evident that there was a vibrant concern for the constructive as well as destructive aspects of emotion during the Enlightenment rather than an exclusive concern for rationality

The Communist

Manifesto in the Revolutionary Politics of 1848 David Ireland, 2022-08-08 This book examines why on the eve of the pamphlet's 175th anniversary the Communist Manifesto left so faint an imprint on Europe's most revolutionary year of 1848 when it has had such a huge impact on posterity. The Manifesto that year misread bourgeois intentions, put too much faith in the industrial proletariat, too little in peasants, too much emphasis on the German states and none on England. Marx and Engels preferred in 1848 to focus on the middle class. Neue Rheinische Zeitung declining to galvanise working class groups whose leadership they had actively sought. They neglected to return swiftly to the German states in their crucial 1848 March days. The Manifesto's programme barely overlapped with contemporary campaigners or comparative pamphleteers or the replacement Demands of the Communist Party in Germany. The book considers the consequences of Marx opting to write the Manifesto alone in January 1848. It also questions the source and significance of the pamphlet's most memorialised phrase, the spectre of Communism, whether it was written for the working men of all countries addressed in its finale and whether Marx and Engels regarded the Manifesto as highly in 1848 as they undoubtedly did in later life.

Chapters include examinations of Iconoclasm's fear that art might surpass nature, the Cartesian mind/body divide, automata as objects of courtly desire, the uncanny Olympia and the revolutionary Robots in post-WWI drama.
