Construing Experience Through Meaning A Language Based Approach To Cognition Christian Matthiessen:

Construing Experience Through Meaning M.A.K. Halliday, Christian Matthiessen, 2006-05-16 The subject of this book is how human beings construe their experience of the world The construction of experience is usually thought of as knowledge represented in the form of conceptual taxonomies schemata scripts and the like The authors offer an interpretation that is complementary to this treating experience not as knowing but as meaning and hence as something that is construed in language In other words the concern is with the construal of human experience as a semantic system and since language plays the central role not only in storing and exchanging experience but also in construing it language is taken as the interpretative base The focus of the book is both theoretical and descriptive The authors consider it important that theory and description should develop in parallel with constant interchange between the two The major descriptive component is an account of the most general features of the ideational semantics of English which is then exemplified in two familiar text types recipes and weather forecasts There is also a brief reference to the semantics of Chinese Theoretical issues are raised throughout as they become relevant to the discussion with the theoretical base being drawn from systemic functional linguistics Both the theoretical and descriptive proposals offered in the book are compared and contrasted with approaches deriving from AI cognitive science and cognitive linguistics

Construing Experience Through Meaning Michael Alexander Kirkwood Halliday, Christian M. I. M. Matthiessen, 1999-01

Functional Perspectives on Grammar and Discourse

Christopher Butler, Raquel Hidalgo Downing, Julia Lavid, 2007 This book a tribute to Angela Downing consists of twenty papers taking a broadly functional perspective on language with topics ranging from the general grammar as an evolutionary product text comprehension integrative linguistics to particular aspects of the grammars of languages Bulgarian English Icelandic Spanish Swedish The more specific papers are sequenced according to Halliday's division into ideational textual and interpersonal aspects of the grammar and cover a wide range of areas including aspect argument structure noun phrase nominal group structure and nominalisations pronominal clitics theme in relation to writing skills discourse structures and markers the role of attention in conversation the functions of topic phatic communion subjectification formulaic language and modality A recurrent theme in the volume is the use of corpus materials in order to base functional descriptions on authentic productions Overall the volume constitutes a panoramic but nevertheless detailed view of some important current trends in functional linguistics

Theorizing and Applying Systemic Functional Linguistics Bo Wang, Yuanyi Ma, 2023-12-29 This collection reflects on developments in the field of Systemic Functional Linguistics SFL as embodied in the work of Christian M I M Matthiessen highlighting his diverse contributions to the field from theoretical and applied perspectives The book surveys Matthiessen's academic career and illustrates the myriad ways in which his work has reverberated through to current innovations in SFL research The book also exhibits his theoretical contributions to major linguistic topics and his influence on the development of SFL Written by some of the world's foremost scholars in the field chapters cover such topics as theories of SFL and its applications in different domains as well as the developmental trajectories of SFL in major geographic areas Addressing the key issues in SFL through the lens of Matthiessen's career this book is an accessible resource for students and scholars in systemic functional linguistics as well as those interested in the systemic functional approach in related areas within linguistics

A Typological Study of the Existential Clause Wang Yong, 2024-06-21

This book investigates the existential clause EC from a cross linguistic perspective and within the framework of Systemic Functional Linguistics The prototypical EC in the less familiar languages is identified through its functional equivalents in the more familiar ones which share the common semantic basis of there exists something in some location Topics addressed include the morpho syntactic features of the EC the subject of the EC the definiteness effect and its manifestations in the EC the EC as impersonals the distinction between entity vs event existentials and the EC and its related constructions Drawing on both cross linguistic observations based on the language sample and in depth investigations in particular languages e g in Chinese and English the study aims to unravel how the lexico grammar of EC is related to its meanings and functions that is how meaning is realised in form The title will appeal to scholars and students in the field of linguistics especially functional linguistics and syntax

The Dynamics of Language Use Christopher S. Butler, María de los Ángeles Gómez

González, Susana M. Doval-Suárez, 2005-09-22 This book brings together a collection of articles characterized by two main themes the contrastive study of parallel phenomena in two or more languages and an essentially functional approach in which language is regarded first and foremost as a rich and complex communication system inextricably embedded in sociocultural and psychological contexts of use The majority of the studies reported is empirical in nature many making use of corpora or other textual materials in the language(s) under investigation The book begins with an introductory section in which the editors provide surveys of the state of the art in both functional and contrastive linguistics The other five sections of the volume are devoted to i a cognitive perspective on form and function ii information structure iii collocations and formulaic language iv language learning and v discourse and culture

Narrative Worlds and the Texture of Time

Rosemary Huisman, 2022-09-30 This book brings together a model of time and a model of language to generate a new model of narrative where different stories with different temporalities and non chronological modes of sequence can tell of different worlds of human and non human experience woven together the texture of time in the one narrative The work of Gerald Edelman on consciousness J T Fraser on time and M A K Halliday on language is introduced the categories of systemic functional linguistics are used for detailed analysis of English narrative texts from different literary periods A summary chapter gives an overview of previous narrative studies and theories with extensive references Chapters on temporalization and spatialization of language contrast the importance of time in narrative texts with the effect of grammatical metaphor as described by M A K Halliday for scientific discourse Chapters on prose fiction poetry and the texts of digital culture chart changes in the texture of time with changes in the social context narrative as social semiotic

Translation and

Comprehensibility Karin Maksymski, Silke Gutermuth, Silvia Hansen-Schirra, 2015-03-26 This volume collects papers presented in the panel Translation and Comprehensibility at the EST conference 2013 in Germersheim In line with the conference topic Centres and Peripheries the papers do not only deal with mainstream topics in translation studies but with some research peripheries as well such as advance translation or intralingual translation All papers have in common that they relate translation research to aspects of comprehensibility addressing them from several different perspectives such as source text defects quality assurance during text production or evaluation of comprehensibility in the target text

Comics as Communication Paul Fisher Davies, 2019-11-07 This book explores how comics function to make meanings in the manner of a language It outlines a framework for describing the resources and practices of comics creation and readership using an approach that is compatible with similar descriptions of linguistic and multimodal communication The approach is based largely on the work of Michael Halliday drawing also on the pragmatics of Paul Grice the Text World Theory of Paul Werth and Joanna Gavins and ideas from art theory psychology and narratology This brings a broad Hallidayan framework of multimodal analysis to comics scholarship and plays a part in extending that tradition of multimodal linguistics to graphic narrative

Classroom Discourse Analysis Frances Christie, 2005-01-01 This book offers a model of classroom discourse analysis that uses systemic functional linguistic theory and associated genre theory to develop a view of classroom episodes as curriculum genres some of which operate in turn as part of larger unities of work called curriculum macrogenres Drawing on Bernstein's work Christie argues that two registers operate in pedagogic discourse a regulative register to do with the goals and directions of the discourse and an instructional register to do with the particular content or knowledge at issue Each can be shown to be realized in distinctive clusters of choices in the grammar The operation of the regulative register determines the initiation pacing sequencing and evaluation of the overall pedagogic activity The book sets out its methodology in detail by reference to a number of classroom texts and a range of school subjects Overall schools emerge as sites of symbolic control in a culture
