Process and signifier, he stresses design like a philosophy of the whole (continually) shifting his awareness of the process, always with a result in progress somewhere, challenging and changing his own mind. In his last the timely delivery (not of communication) and the practice of enhancement, struggling and trying, with acquiring knowledge and defining issues in timely theorems. Although he believes that knowing the future (which is not possible) is a false assumption, he has, to my mind, a natural talent for it. He becomes an oracle when he speaks of our life in the 21st century and the need for two futures as vast and all encompassing, one from the conditions

John MAEDA
Kenzo Maeda is a complex man. He carries the world through his many lenses of writing, sewing, reading, organizing, and all forms of construction and deconstruction in Japan's postmodern art discourse at the beginning of the 1970s when his generation is flourishing, yet if there is one boundary that he has not yet broken, it is the international appeal for his work. With this new book, the world now stands to benefit from Maeda of Maeda's research on the collective memories of new Japanese design, read from the construction.
