Transnational Television in Europe Jean K. Chalaby, 2009-02-19 Today transnational TV networks count among television's most prestigious brands and rank among Europe's leading TV channels This is the first dynamically told story of the extraordinary journey of transnational television in Europe from struggling origins to its present day boom It is based in extensive research into the international television industry and makes full use of its author's remarkable access to leading industry figures from Sky and Turner to Discovery and BBC World The tale begins with a few cross border TV channels who fought hostile governments faced antagonism from the broadcasting establishment and provoked the contempt of advertisers But Jean Chalaby argues the planets came into alignment for pan European television in the late 1990s when a transnational shift in European broadcasting was produced He shows how transnational television and globalization have transformed one another and how transfrontier TV networks reflect and help sustain a global economic order in which the connection between national territory and patterns of production and distribution have broken down Anime and Manga , Media Across Borders Andrea Esser, Iain Robert Smith, Miguel Á. Bernal-Merino, 2016-01-29 What happened when Sesame Street and Big Brother were adapted for African audiences Or when video games Final Fantasy and Assassins Creed were localized for the Spanish market Or when Sherlock Holmes was transformed into a talking dog for the Japanese animation Sherlock Hound Bringing together leading international scholars working on localization in television film and video games Media Across Borders is a pioneering study of the myriad ways in which media content is adapted for different markets and across cultural borders Contributors examine significant localization trends and practices such as audiovisual translation and transcreation dubbing and subtitling international franchising film remakes TV format adaptation and video game localization Drawing together insights from across the audiovisual sector this volume provides a number of innovative models for interrogating the international flow of media By paying specific attention to the diverse ways in which cultural products are adapted across markets this collection offers important new perspectives and theoretical frameworks for studying localization processes in the audiovisual sector For further resources please see the Media Across Borders group website www.mediaacrossborders.com which hosts a localization bibliography links to relevant companies institutions and publications as well as conference papers and workshop summaries TV World , 1998-06 International business magazine for television Children's Writers' & Artists' Yearbook 2017 Bloomsbury Publishing, 2016-07-28 Foreword by Frances Hardinge The annual bestselling guide to all aspects of the media and how to write and illustrate for children and young adults Acknowledged by the media industries and authors as the essential guide to how to get published The 70 articles are updated and added to each year Together they provide invaluable guidance on subjects such as series fiction writing historical or funny books preparing an illustration portfolio managing your finances interpreting publishers contracts self publishing your work NEW articles for the 2017 edition included on Wanting to be a writer by Simon Mason Finding new readers and markets by Tom Palmer News and
