

move the gear shift lever to the position for the speed desired. Push the clutch lever forward gradually until it snaps into full engagement; but do not push on the lever after the clutch is fully engaged. The gear shift lever should be in the neutral position when starting the engine, or when running idle in order to prevent accidents in case the clutch is accidentally engaged.

Occasionally the gears will slip with the teeth ends opposite each other, thereby preventing easy shifting. Should this occur, partly engage the clutch to rotate the gears slowly, then the teeth can be meshed readily. This condition occurs more often when the tractor is new.

Before substituting an engine unit to full load, be sure it is thoroughly warmed up.

Running in a New Engine.

A new tractor should never be loaded to full capacity. For the first 50 hours it should be run at half load with full open throttle or governor speed, before it is put on full load.

Stopping the Engine.

When gasoline is used for fuel, the engine is stopped by reducing the speed and then pulling out the magneto switch button on the instrument panel.

When operating on low-cost fuel, turn off the fuel from the main tank and turn on the gasoline a few minutes before stopping. This will allow the low-cost fuel in the lines and the carburetor bowl to be replaced by gasoline. Starting on low-cost fuel is difficult, if not impossible, after the engine has cooled off.
