Decolonial Psychology and Dialogues of Resistance James Cresswell, Atsushi Tajima, Arthur Arruda Leal Ferreira, 2025-07-11 Interweaving rich theory on dialogism power and resistance together with situated scenarios addressing the production of psychological knowledge this book explores decoloniality as it interfaces with strategic fields in psychology Current movements in global sentiment have raised important calls for decolonial action In this volume an international set of authors come together to critically challenge power by considering how colonial mindsets develop and are retained Drawing on dialogism inspired by Bakhtin Vygotsky and other leading thinkers of dialogicality the book focuses on dialogue and how it is tied to the ability to think in ways outside colonial mindsets It challenges approaches that run the risk of bypassing how fundamental colonialism has become for human thinking and incorporates visions to consider how both conceptually and methodologically a postcolonial or decolonial psychology can be done In so doing it guides readers beyond the status quo to consider a program to improve psychology formulate a new psychological culture and bring about discussion beyond the permanent yet generative tension between liberating and subordinating psychologies The book will be key reading for theoretical and critical psychology scholars and postgraduate students particularly those interested in community engagement and decolonizing psychology It will also be of interest to those engaged in research in Bakhtinian studies critical theory and power studies

Joint Action Tim Corcoran, John Cromby, 2016-06-10 Joint Action Essays in honour of John Shotter brings together a cross disciplinary group of fifteen respected international scholars to explain the relevance of John Shotter s work to emerging concerns in twenty first century social science Shotter's work extends over forty years and continues to challenge conventional scientific thinking across a range of topics. The disciplines and practices that Shotter's work has informed are well established throughout the English speaking world. As such it will appeal to researchers and postgraduate students of social sciences and related disciplines as well as to those who have heard of Shotter's work and want to know more about its utility and value in relation to their own research or practice.

Dialogue With Bakhtin on Second and Foreign

Language Learning Joan Kelly Hall, Gergana Vitanova, Ludmila A. Marchenkova, 2004-12-13. This volume is the first to explore links between the Russian linguist Mikhail Bakhtin's theoretical insights about language and practical concerns with second and foreign language learning and teaching. Situated within a strong conceptual framework and drawing from a rich empirical base, it reflects recent scholarship in applied linguistics that has begun to move away from formalist views of language as universal autonomous linguistic systems and toward an understanding of language as dynamic collections of cultural resources. According to Bakhtin, the study of language is concerned with the dialogue existing between linguistic elements and the uses to which they are put in response to the conditions of the moment. Such a view of language has significant implications for current understandings of second and foreign language learning. The contributors draw on some of Bakhtin's more significant concepts such as dialogue, utterance, heteroglossia, voice and addressivity to examine real world contexts of language learning. The chapters address a range of contexts including elementary and university level English as a second language and foreign language classrooms and adult learning situations outside the formal classroom. The text is arranged in two parts. Part I: Contexts of Language Learning and Teaching contains seven chapters that report on investigations into specific contexts of language learning and teaching. The chapters in Part II: Implications for Theory and Practice present broader discussions on second and foreign language learning using Bakhtin's ideas as a springboard for thinking. This is a groundbreaking volume for scholars in applied linguistics, language education and language studies with an interest in second and foreign language learning for teacher educators and for teachers of languages from elementary to university levels. It is highly relevant as a text for graduate level courses in applied linguistics and second and foreign language education.

Bakhtin and his Others Liisa Steinby, Tintti Klapuri, 2014-11-01 Bakhtin and his Others aims to develop an understanding of Mikhail Bakhtin's ideas through a contextual approach particularly with a focus on Bakhtin studies from the 1990s onward The volume offers fresh theoretical insights into Bakhtin's ideas on inter subjectivity and temporality including his concepts of chronotope and literary polyphony by reconsidering his ideas in relation to the sources he employs and taking into account later research on similar topics The case studies show how Bakhtin's ideas when seen in light of this approach can be constructively employed in contemporary literary research

Dialogicality in Development Ingrid E. Josephs, 2003-09-30 The crucial nature of developmental theory is the question of relationship between cultural and personal facets of human development Dialogue is a useful concept to specify this relationship from a process oriented perspective In its broadest sense the notion of dialogue entails the interaction between at least two entities persons meanings perspectives out of which novelty can but need not emerge Thus dialogic models are open for developmental questions These issues are examined in this the first volume in which the increasingly popular metaphor of dialogue is systematically applied to developmental issues Dialogue is a multilevel concept and can be understood 1 as a real exchange between two interacting persons 2 as the interaction between culture at large e.g. stories and narratives and the interacting developing person and 3 as a metaphor for developmental processes in general In the first part of this international volume the concept of dialogue is elaborated by researchers from different disciplines The focus of the second section is on dialogic models in the area of self development The third deals with the dialogical co development of person and culture
