Dictionary of Munster Women Writers

1800-2000 Tina O'Toole, 2005 This dictionary will make an important contribution to the knowledge of writing in Munster in both Irish and English over the past 200 years. The dictionary has entries on 560 writers including 220 in Irish. Each entry contains a bibliographical note, a list of key references and a bibliography where applicable. Advances in literary and cultural studies distinct from primarily historical research on the region of Munster over the last two centuries enables a new view as a whole of the work of women writers juxtaposes the work of Irish English language and bilingual writers and thereby helps to develop an understanding of the province of Munster as a diverse cultural milieu and focus on the role of regionality in the process of cultural creation. The Munster Women Writers Project based in the English Department at University College Cork was a recovery project aiming to make available the basic materials for biographical and literary research and analysis on the extensive number of women writers with Munster backgrounds or strong Munster connections in the period 1800-2000. The objective was to make more information on these writers available for future literary historians, feminist critics and social historians to develop knowledge and understanding of this material. By making available the basic materials for scholarly research in this field, the project aims to help generate critical analysis of the role of regional class and gender factors in the formation of writers and the intersection of these factors in the nature of the work produced. Irish Women Writers

Alexander G. Gonzalez, 2005-11-30 Irish women writers have a large following and their works are attracting large amounts of scholarly and critical attention. Through roughly 75 alphabetically arranged entries written by more than 35 expert contributors, this reference overviews the lives and works of Irish women writers active in a range of genres and periods. Each entry includes a brief biography, a discussion of major works and themes, a survey of the writer's critical reception and a list of works by and about the author. The volume closes with a selected general bibliography. Ireland has an especially lively literary tradition and works by Irish writers have long been recognized as interesting and influential. While male writers have received the bulk of the critical attention, contemporary women writers are among the most widely read Irish authors. This reference overviews the lives and works of Irish women writers active in a range of periods and genres. Included are roughly 75 alphabetically arranged entries written by more than 35 expert contributors. Among the writers discussed are Elizabeth Bowen, Mary Dorcey, Lady Isabella Augusta Gregory, Anne Hartigan, Norah Hoult, Paula Meehan, Iris Murdoch, Edna O'Brien, Katharine Tynan, Sheila Wingfield, and many more. Each entry includes a brief biography, a discussion of major works and themes, a review of the writer's critical reception and a list of works by and about the writer. The volume closes with a selected general bibliography. Austerity and Irish Women's Writing and Culture,

1980-2020 Deirdre Flynn, Ciara L. Murphy, 2022-07-18 Austerity and Irish Women's Writing and Culture 1980-2020 focuses on the under-represented relationship between austerity and Irish women's writing across the last four decades. Taking a wide focus across cultural mediums this collection of essays from leading scholars in Irish studies considers how economic policies impacted on and are represented in Irish women's writing during critical junctures in recent Irish history Through an investigation of cultural production north and south of the border this collection analyses women's writing using a multimedial approach through four distinct lenses austerity feminism and conflict arts and austerity race and austerity and spaces of austerity This collection asks two questions what sort of cultural output does austerity produce And if the effects of austerity are gendered then what are the gender specific responses to financial insecurity both national and domestic By investigating how austerity is treated in women's writing and culture from 1980 to 2020 this collection provides a much needed analysis of the gendered experience of economic crisis and specifically of Ireland's consistent relationship with cycles of boom and bust Thirteen chapters which focus on fiction drama poetry women's life writing and women's cultural contributions examine these questions This volume takes the reader on a journey across decades and forms as a means of interrogating the growth of the economic divide between the rich and the poor since the 1980s through the voices of Irish women

A History of Modern Irish Women's Literature Heather Ingman, Cliona Ó Gallchoir, 2018-07-26 This book offers the first comprehensive survey of writing by women in Ireland from the seventeenth century to the present day It covers literature in all genres including poetry drama and fiction as well as life writing and unpublished writing and addresses work in both English and Irish The chapters are authored by leading experts in their field giving readers an introduction to cutting edge research on each period and topic Survey chapters give an essential historical overview and are complemented by a focus on selected topics such as the short story and key figures whose relationship to the narrative of Irish literary history is analysed and reconsidered Demonstrating the pioneering achievements of a huge number of many hitherto neglected writers A History of Modern Irish Women's Literature makes a critical intervention in Irish literary history

The Political Worlds of Women Sarah Richardson, 2013 This volume examines female engagement in both traditional and unconventional political arenas in nineteenth century Britain including female sociability salons child rearing and education health consumption religious reform and nationalism Richardson focuses on middle class women's social cultural intellectual and political authority as implemented by a range of public figures and lesser known campaigners

Irish Novelists and the Victorian Age James H. Murphy, 2011-01-13 This is the first comprehensive study of the neglected Irish writers of the Victorian age whose work was highly popular with the British reading audience and therefore disparaged and largely forgotten from the era of W B Yeats and the Irish Literary Revival with its culturally nationalist agenda onwards It is based on a reading of around 370 novels by 150 authors including William Carleton the peasant novelist who wielded much influence and Charles Lever whose serious work was destroyed by the slur of rollicking as well as Joseph Sheridan LeFanu George Moore Emily Lawless Somerville and Ross Bram Stoker and three of the leading authors from the new woman movement Sarah Grand Iota and George Egerton James H Murphy examines their writing in a variety of contexts the political economic and cultural developments of the time the vicissitudes of the reading audience the realities of a publishing industry that was for the most part London based the often difficult circumstances of the lives of the novelists and the ever changing genre of the novel itself to which Irish authors often made a contribution Politics history religion gender and particularly land over which nineteenth century Ireland was deeply divided featured as key themes for fiction Finally the book engages with the critical debate of recent times concerning the supposed failure of realism in the nineteenth century Irish novel looking for deeper causes than have hitherto been offered and discovering occasions on which realism turned out to be possible

Women in Irish Drama M. Sihra, 2007-03-14 Featuring original essays by leading scholars in the field this book explores the immense legacy of women playwrights in Irish theatre since the beginning of the Twentieth century Chapters consider the intersecting contexts of gender sexuality and the body in order to investigate the broader cultural political and historical implications of representing woman on the stage In addition a number of essays engage with representations of women by a selection of male playwrights in order to re evaluate familiar contexts and traditions in Irish drama Features a Foreword by Marina Carr and a useful appendix of Irish women playwrights and their works

Poetry by Women in Ireland Lucy Collins, 2012-01-01 Uncovering the hidden history of poetry written by women in Ireland from 1870 to 1970 this anthology includes more than 180 poems by fifteen women with diverse backgrounds experiences and creative aims Challenging the assumption that women wrote little poetry of note during this period this rich and original collection reveals the range of their achievement and the lasting value of their work Presented alongside biographical sketches of their authors the poems span the political and the personal From nationalist ballads to modernist lyrics this book is an essential resource for students and scholars of Irish literature
