Postmodern Fiction and the Break-Up of Britain Hywel Dix, 2011-11-03 This study explores how British identity has been explored and renegotiated by contemporary writers It starts by examining the new emphasis on space and place that has emerged in recent cultural analysis and shows how this spatial emphasis informs different literary texts Having first analysed a series of novels that draw an implicit parallel between the end of the British Empire and the break up of the unitary British state the study explores how contemporary writing in Northern Ireland Scotland and Wales contributes to a sense of nationhood in those places and so contributes to the break up of Britain symbolically Dix argues that the break up of Britain is not limited to political devolution in Northern Ireland Scotland and Wales It is also an imaginary process that can be found occurring on a number of other conceptual coordinates Feminism class regional identities and ethnic communities are all terrains on which different writers carry out a fictional questioning of received notions of Britishness and so contribute in different ways to the break up of Britain

Worthy a Friend SICHANGWA ANDREW, 2014-10-29 Worthy A Friend is a book written upon realizing that most of the people often think that the causes of modern social problems from divorce to homelessness and conflicts are created by poverty Overlooking something crucial i e friendship it appears that our societies are ignoring the importance of friendship The philosophy behind Worthy a Friend is to help the world appreciate the reality that In poverty and other misfortunes of life true friends are a sure refuge It keeps the young out of mischief it comfort and aid the old in their weakness and it incite those in the prime of life to noble deeds Friendship is vital for wellbeing and it is the only glue that can stick the world together yet it takes time to develop and cant be artificially created Worth A Friend recommends carrying out personal friendship audit in order to recognize which friendships provide important things one need then to sharpen each friendship in line with its strength It discuss on how close friendship can be a mirror of your own self it adds that friendship is also important in politics and business because it cultivates the virtues such as creativity and compassion which are essential to a flourishing society It concludes that if we cultivate friendship we can lift some of the burden from our apparently unhappy isolated selves
