Comfort for Hours of Sorrow John Ross Macduff, Anna Elizabeth Hamilton, Edith S. Jacob, 2024-06 British Books in Print, 1924 Light on the Cloud M. J. Savage, 2016-12-10 Excerpt from Light on the Cloud Or Hints of Comfort for Hours of Sorrow Early all the matter of this little volume has been in print before Some of it has been copied many times and circulated widely Parts of it have been called for from California and the Mississippi to Maine From many sources the advice has come to put it into permanent form It is now sent forth with no pretension and making no claims It indeed aspires to the sacred work of comfort but only by hints and whispers that would let Grief be her own mistress still The author despises perfunctory or official sympathy He would simply sit down by the side of those whom the cloud overhangs and by a pressure of the hand or a word from the heart help them believe in the light that is above the clouds and stronger than they He would not claim to prove all he has suggested One may hope the sweetest and best things if only his hope be rational As for the verses if any one thinks they are not worthy to be called poetry let them be named what ever they may About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books Find more at www.forgottenbooks.com This book is a reproduction of an important historical work Forgotten Books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy In rare cases an imperfection in the original such as a blemish or missing page may be replicated in our edition We do however repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works

The Sufficiency and Defects of the English Communion Office (Classic Reprint) A. G. Walpole Sayer, 2018-02-03 Excerpt from The Sufficiency and Defects of the English Communion Office HE object which led to the enterprise of this subject was essentially practical Considerable outcry had been raised against the interpolation into the service by the Celebrant of parts of the Unreformed Office The outcry interpreted this action as throwing doubt or discredit on the Office of our Church And this interpretation is justified by the open avowals of many who are addicted to this practice They allege defect or deficiency in our Office Others indeed without such allegation or conscious admission defend their interpolations as conducing to greater fulness or richness The object of this work in part is to attempt to disprove the charges of insufficiency and to show the redundancy of such interpolations The nature of the interpolations in View has been already defined There is no reference to any private¹ intercessions or devotions of the Celebrant but to the direct interpolation of portions of other Offices About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books Find more at www.forgottenbooks.com This book is a reproduction of an important historical work Forgotten Books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy In rare cases an imperfection in the original such as a blemish or missing page may be replicated in our edition We do however repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve
