Approaches and Methods in Event Studies Tomas Pernecky, 2016-05-12 The recent proliferation of events as a subject of study in its own right has signalled the emergence of a new field event studies However whilst the management inspired notion of planned events which strives for conceptual slenderness may indeed be useful for event managers the moment we attempt to advance knowledge about events as social cultural and political phenomena we realise the extent to which the field is theoretically impoverished Event studies it is argued must transcend overt business like perspectives in order to grasp events in their complexities This book challenges the reader to reach beyond the established modes of thinking about events by placing them against a backdrop of much wider critical discourse Approaches and Methods in Event Studies emerges as a conceptual and methodological tour de force comprising the works of scholars of diverse backgrounds coming together to address a range of philosophical theoretical and methods related problems The areas covered include the concepts of eventification and eventual approaches to events a mobilities paradigm rhizomatic events critical discourse analysis visual methods reflexive and ethnographic research into events and indigenous acumen Researchers and students engaged in the study of events will draw much inspiration from the contributions and from the volume as a whole Critical Event Studies Karl Spracklen,Ian R. Lamond,2016-05-26 Within events management events are commonly categorised within two axes size and content Along the size axis events range between the small scale and local through major events which garner greater media interest to internationally significant hallmark and mega events such as the Edinburgh Festival and the Tour de France Content is frequently divided into three forms culture sport or business However such frameworks overlook and depoliticise a significant variety of events those more accurately construed as protest This book brings together new research and theories from around the world and across sociology leisure studies politics and cultural studies to develop a new critical pedagogy and critical theory of events It is the first research monograph that deals explicitly with the concept of critical event studies CES the idea that it is impossible to explore and understand events without understanding the wider social cultural and political contexts It addresses questions such as can the occupation and reclamation of specific spaces by activists be understood as events within its framework And is the activity of activists in these spaces a leisure activity If those and other similar activities can be read as events and leisure what does admitting them into the scope of events management and leisure studies mean for our understanding of them and how the study of events management is to be conceptualised This title will be of interest to undergraduate and postgraduate students on events management and related courses and scholars interested in understanding the ways in which events are constructed by the social the cultural and the political

Visitor Attractions and Events Adi Weidenfeld, Richard Butler, Allan M. Williams, 2016-04-28 Both visitor attractions and events play pivotal roles in the appeal of tourism destination regions to visitors by virtue of being the main motivator of tourist trips and determining consumers choices However more recently visitor attractions have become more multifaceted have proliferated and fragmented in terms of form location scale and style and their role is undergoing major changes in a post modern world as a result of consumer demands and competitive innovations Visitor Attractions and Events for the first time theoretically and empirically explores the relations between events and attractions to offer new thinking of the role of space and place in shaping development management practices and strategies in the sector as well as future implications The book reveals how location is pivotal in the development planning and management of visitor attractions and events Whereas the location of natural attractions is relatively fixed in space and their locations cannot be predetermined or relocated human made or contrived attractions are more influenced by the planning process in the context of the locational decision making process Competition and cooperation between visitor attractions and the aspects which shape these relations including complementarities compatibility knowledge spill overs and diffusion of innovations product similarities and spatial proximity remain largely ignored in the visitor attraction sector and thus are major elements in the focus of this book Comparative examples ranging from small to major attractions in a wide variety of locations are included This significant volume will appeal widely to all those interested in the visitor sector such as tourism events leisure studies destination management and sociology
