European VAT Directives B. J. M. Terra, Bureau international de documentation fiscale, Julie Kajus, 2014 European VAT and the Sharing Economy Giorgio Beretta, 2019-10-24 A breadth of new digital platforms has dramatically expanded the range of possibilities for exchanging anything required by business or personal needs from accommodation to rides In the virtual marketplaces shaped and ruled by these novel matchmakers rather than by a single centralized entity value is created through the granular interaction of many dispersed individuals By allowing instantaneous and smooth interaction among millions of individuals platforms have indeed pushed the digital frontier farther and farther so as to include within it even services once not capable of direct delivery from a remote location such as accommodation and passenger transport Legal disruption is also underway with foundational dichotomous categories such as those between suppliers and customers business and private spheres employees and self employed no longer viable as organizational legal structures This is the essential background of the first book to relate what is synthetically captured under the umbrella definition of sharing economy to key features at the core of European Value Added Tax EU VAT and to look at the feasibility of a reformed EU VAT system capable of addressing the main challenges posed by these new models of production distribution and consumption of goods and services Specifically the study analyses five legal propositions underpinning the current EU VAT system as the following taxable persons taxable transactions composite supplies place of supply rules and liability regimes for collection and remittance of VAT Exploration of these five legal propositions is meant to assess the practical feasibility of shoehorning the main sharing economy business models notably those available in the accommodation and passenger transport sectors into the framework of existing EU VAT provisions The author further draws on the normative standards of equality neutrality simplicity flexibility and proportionality to test the reflexes of the current EU VAT system in the sharing economy domain Opportunities for reform of the current EU VAT system are in turn evaluated with each chapter including cogent proposals in the form of incremental and targeted amendments to the current EU VAT provisions As the first comprehensive analysis of the treatment of the sharing economy for VAT purposes the book provides not only a theoretical framework for future studies in the tax field but also indispensable practical guidance for VAT specialists confronting daily with the many challenges ushered in by the sharing economy Moreover the various solutions and recommendations advanced in the book offer valuable insights to international and national policymakers dealing with similar issues under other VAT systems

The EU VAT System and the Internal Market Rita de La Feria, 2009 This thesis focuses upon VAT in the context of the Community's internal market Its central aim is to prove that the current EU VAT system is incompatible with the concept of internal market as set out in the EC Treaty and interpreted by the Court of Justice The study commences with an analysis of the concept of internal market the main objective of which is to establish the basic legal framework for the proposed thesis As part of this examination it is demonstrated that the EC Treaty creates a temporally unlimited obligation for the Community to approve legislation with the aim of establishing and improving the functioning of the internal market By analysis of existing EU VAT jurisprudence it is argued that obstacles cannot be overcome through incremental developments emerging from the Court of Justice but can only be resolved by fundamental and substantive legislative amendment
