Common Heroes Robert Ruvkun, 1999

Signs of the Giver Southwestern College (Winfield, Kan.), 2003 This volume contains collection of ten essays that focus on the fiction and non fiction of southern novelist Walker Percy 1916 1990 Delivered during the 2002 Walker Percy Undergraduate Seminar held at Southwestern College in Winfield KS the contributors focus upon a wide array of topics relevant to the study of Percy's writings Catholicism race relations existentialism and even Percy's semiotics receive attention in this dynamic collection

Words to the Wise Andrea Clardy, 1986 For every woman who wants to know where to send it after it's been written here is a lively annotated listing of more than 100 book and periodical publishers Includes scholarly book publishers and children's book references as well as detailed general poetry and prose entries Page 4 of cover

The 100 Most Popular Young Adult Authors Bernard A. Drew, 1997-10-15 The book focuses on individuals writing in the 90s but also includes 12 classic authors e.g. Mark Twain Louisa May Alcott J.R.R. Tolkien who are still widely read by teens It also covers some authors known primarily for adult literature e.g. Stephen King and some who write mainly for middle readers but are also popular among young adults e.g. Betsy Byars An affordable alternative to multivolume publications this book makes a great collection development tool and resource for author studies It will also help readers find other books by and about their favorite writers

Feminist Bookstore News, 1989

Media and Health Clive Seale, 2003-01-17 This book appears to fill a substantial gap in the literature at present There are quite simply no books available which engage seriously and competently with the presentation of health issues in the media and certainly none which focuses on representations of health and illness in as thematically coherent a manner as Seale proposes to do Richard Gwyn University of Cardiff This is an excellent resource for students It provides a comprehensive review of secondary literature in the field and is very well researched Students of sociology of health and illness and in media and communication studies will find the book invaluable David Oswell Goldsmiths College University of London This is a comprehensive work on media health providing an invaluable toolkit for understanding health and the media in contemporary society Seale goes further than previous textbooks critiquing the lament of media health promoters in order to explore the moralisation and commercialisation of media health Dr Annette Hill University of Westminster How are health matters presented by the mass media How accurate are the messages we are receiving This book demonstrates how health messages in popular mass media are important influences in our lives and that they are not neutral being subject to many determining influences It demonstrates the importance of mass media for understanding the experience of illness health and health care bringing together the latest thinking in the field of media studies and the sociology of health and illness This book provides a thorough review of research literature on media representations of health illness and health care covering their production characteristic forms and relationships with the everyday lives of media

audiences It brings together both well known and lesser known studies in the context of an integrated sociological argument about media and health Media producers are subject to a variety of influences from medical lobbies scientific organizations and not least the commercial pressure to satisfy media saturated audiences These mean that aims of health promoters are not always easily achieved leading to considerable tensions that require a deeper understanding of media health than has hitherto been applied to them This book will be essential reading for health educators and promoters as well as health care providers interested in the cultural aspects of health sociologists of health and illness and students and academics of media studies
