Women, America, and Movement Susan L. Roberson, 1998 Since the colonial days American women have traveled migrated and relocated always faced with the challenge of reconstructing their homes for themselves and their families Women America and Movement offers a journey through largely unexplored territory the experiences of migrating American women These narratives both real and imagined represent a range of personal and critical perspectives some of the women describe their travels as expansive and freeing while others relate the dreadful costs and sacrifices of relocating Despite the range of essays featured in this study the writings all coalesce around the issues of politics poetry and self identity described by Adrienne Rich as the elements of the politics of location treated here as the politics of relocation The narratives featured in this book explore the impact of race class and sexual economics on migratory women their self identity and their roles in family and social life These issues demonstrate that in addition to geographic place ideology is itself a space to be traversed By examining the writings of such women as Louise Erdrich Zora Neale Hurston and Gertrude Stein the essayists included in this volume offer a variety of experiences The book confronts such issues as racist politicking against Native Americans African Americans and Asian immigrants sexist attitudes that limit women to the roles of wife mother and sexual object and exploitation of migrants from Appalachia and of women newly arrived in America These essays also delve into the writings themselves by looking at what happens to narrative structure as authors or their characters cross geographic boundaries The reader sees how women writers negotiate relocation in their texts and how the written word becomes a place where one finds oneself

The Fiction of South Asians in North America and the Caribbean Mitali P. Wong, Zia Hasan, 2010-06-28. This study establishes connections between the themes and methodologies of writers within the South Asian diaspora in the New World and serves both serious analysts as well as beginning readers of South Asian fiction. It is an impartial study that analyzes the stylistic excellence of South Asian fiction and the clearly emergent motifs of the writers recognizing the value of the interplay of cultural differences and the need for resolution of those differences. The book begins with a discussion of the works of Indo Caribbean novelists Samuel Selvon and V S Naipaul author of A House for Mr Biswas and The Enigma of Arrival thereby establishing parallels between the immigration patterns of the South Asian diaspora who first emigrated to the Caribbean long before significant numbers of South Asians came to the United States. Next the fiction of Ruth Praver Jhabvala Heat and Dust the non-fictional narratives of Ved Mehta Face to Face and the satire and social criticism of Bharati Mukherjee Wife and Child and Chitra Banerjee Divakaruni Sister of My Heart are discussed. New literary voices such as those of Bapsi Sidhwa An American Brat Pulitzer Prize winner Jhumpa Lahiri whose characters plots and themes deal with universal human experiences Akhil Sharma Manil Suri and Samrat Upadhyay are studied for the new directions and new methods they offer. A sub genre of young adult fiction is discovered in the novels of Dhan Gopal Mukerji such as in his Gay Neck The Story of a Pigeon and more recently in the works of Mitali Perkins and Indi Rana. Recent expatriate novelists from South Asia such as Anita Desai Amitav Chosh Vikram Chandra and the American editions of Vikram Seth's novels are appraised together with contemporary Indo Canadian novelists and Indo Caribbean novelists resident in Canada.
