Coming Up From The Streets The Story Of The Big Issue:

Coming Up from the Streets Tessa Swithinbank, 2014-10-14 The success story of The Big Issue is both inspirational and paradoxical rather than a charity it is a flourishing commercial enterprise but one that genuinely benefits those involved The magazine is sold by homeless and vulnerable people and in return they achieve financial independence and status and self reliance The story of the paper s development has a practical angle it should offer help and insights to NGOs and governments involved with the homeless or to those businesses wishing to set up enterprises for the common good

The Politics of Dependence Patrick J. L. Cockburn, 2018-05-08 The central claim of this book is that the dichotomy between economic dependence and economic independence is completely inadequate for describing the political challenges faced by contemporary capitalist welfare states The simplistic contrast between markets and states as sources of income renders invisible the relations of dependence established in our basic economic institutions such as the family property and money This book is a work of political theory that attacks narrow conceptions of dependence and identifies distinct senses of dependence that might allow political communities to make clearer decisions about the justice of our economic institutions and practices Inheritance for example is as much a form of dependence as support by a welfare state but these are never compared in debates about economic justice This book begins the work of comparing forms of economic dependence and argues that economic dependence is always an issue of both vulnerability and parasitism It builds bridges between political theory and social science and is of relevance to those concerned with social and economic justice in and beyond contemporary capitalist welfare states

Precarious Enterprise on the Margins Jessica Gerrard, 2017-07-21 This book explores the contemporary conditions of marginal work within the context of persistent unemployment poverty and homelessness in wealthy nations Drawing from research concerning three cities Melbourne San Francisco and London Jessica Gerrard offers a rich account of one of the most precarious informal forms of work selling homeless street press The Big Issue and Street Sheet Combining analyses of sellers everyday work experiences with theorizations of marginality working and learning Gerrard provides much needed insight into contemporary forms of entrepreneurial and precarious work This book demonstrates that those who are unemployed and seemingly unproductive are in fact highly productive They value desire and seek practical work experience whilst also struggling to fulfill the basic needs that many of us take for granted

The Politics of Expertise Matthew Hilton, James McKay, Nicholas Crowson, Jean-François Mouhot, 2013-04-25 The Politics of Expertise offers a challenging new interpretation of politics in contemporary Britain through an examination of non governmental organisations Using specific case studies of the homelessness environment and international aid and development sectors it demonstrates how politics and political activism has changed over the last half century NGOs have contributed enormously to a professionalization and a privatization of politics emerging as a new form of expert knowledge and political participation They have been led by a new breed of non party politician working in collaboration and in competition with government Skilful navigators of the modern technocratic state they have brought expertise to expertise and in so doing have changed the nature of grassroots activism As affluent citizens have felt marginalised by the increasingly complex nature of many policy solutions they have made the rational calculation to support NGOs the professionalism and resources of which make them better able to tackle complex problems Yet in doing so support rather than participation becomes the more appropriate way to describe the relationship of the public to NGOs As voter turnout has declined membership and trust in NGOs has increased But NGOs are very different types of organisations from the classic democratic institutions of political parties and the labour movement They maintain different and varied relationships with the publics they seek to represent Attracting mass support has provided them with the resources and the legitimacy to speak to power on a bewildering range of issues yet perhaps the ultimate victors in this new form of politics are the NGOs themselves

Digital Dilemmas M.I. Franklin, 2013-11-19 Digital Dilemmas is a groundbreaking ethnographic mixed method approach to understanding dynamics of power and resistance as they are played out around the future of the internet M I Franklin looks at the way that publics governments and multilateral institutions are being redefined and reinvented in digital settings that are ubiquitous and yet controlled by a relative few The result is a thought provoking and seminal work on the way that the new paradigms of power and resistance forged online reshape localized and traditional power structures offline

Homeless Advocacy and the Rhetorical Construction of the Civic Home Melanie Loehwing,2018-10-30 Homeless assistance has frequently adhered to the three hots and a cot model which prioritizes immediate material needs but may fail to address the political and social exclusion of people experiencing homelessness In this study Loehwing reconsiders typical characterizations of homelessness citizenship and democratic community through unconventional approaches to homeless advocacy and assistance While conventional homeless advocacy rhetoric establishes the urgency of homeless suffering it also implicitly invites housed publics to understand homelessness as a state of abnormality that destines the individuals suffering it to life outside the civic body In contrast Loehwing focuses on atypical models of homeless advocacy the meal sharing initiatives of Food Not Bombs the international competition of the Homeless World Cup and the annual Homeless Persons Memorial Day campaign She argues that these modes of unconventional homeless advocacy provide rhetorical exemplars of a type of inclusive and empowering civic discourse that is missing from conventional homeless advocacy and may be indispensable for overcoming homeless marginalization and exclusion in contemporary democratic culture Loehwing s interrogation of homeless advocacy rhetorics demonstrates how discursive practices shape democratic culture and how they may provide a potential civic remedy to the harms of disenfranchisement discrimination and displacement This book will be welcomed by scholars whose work focuses on the intersections of democratic theory and rhetorical and civic studies as well as by homelessness advocacy groups
