Cristina García

Cubaanse Dromen De Zusters Agero Twee Familieromans Uit Cuba:

The Agüero Sisters Cristina García, 2011-07-27 When Cristina García's first novel Dreaming in Cuban was published in 1992 The New York Times called the author a magical new writer completely original The book was nominated for a National Book Award and reviewers everywhere praised it for the richness of its prose the vivid drama of the narrative and the dazzling illumination it brought to bear on the intricacies of family life in general and the Cuban American family in particular Now with The Agüero Sisters García gives us her widely anticipated new novel Large vibrant resonant with image and emotion it tells a mesmerizing story about the power of family myth to mask transform and finally reveal the truth It is the story of Reina and Constancia Agüero Cuban sisters who have been estranged for thirty years Reina forty eight years old living in Cuba in the early 1990s was once a devoted daughter of la revoluci n Constancia an eager to assimilate naturalized American smuggled herself off the island in 1962 Reina is tall darkly beautiful unmarried and magnetically sexual a master electrician who is known as Compa era Amazona among her countless male suitors and who basks in the admiration she receives in her trade and in her bed Constancia is petite perfectly put together pale skinned an inspirationally successful yet modest cosmetics saleswoman long resigned to her passionless marriage Reina believes in only what she can grasp with her five senses Constancia believes in miracles that arrive every day from the succulent edge of disaster Reina lives surrounded by their father's belongings the tangible remains of her childhood Constancia has inherited only a startling resemblance to their mother the mysterious Blanca which she wears like an unwanted mask The sisters stories are braided with the voice from the past of their father Ignacio a renowned naturalist whose chronicling of Cuba's dying species mirrored his own sad inability to prevent familial tragedy It is in the memories of their parents dead many years but still powerfully present that the sisters lives have remained inextricably bound Tireless scientists Ignacio and Blanca understood the perfect truth of the language of nature but never learned to speak it in their own tongue What they left their daughters the picture of a dark and uncertain history sifted with half truths and pure lies is the burden and the gift the two women struggle with as they move unknowingly toward reunion And during that movement as their stories unfurl and intertwine with those of their children their lovers and husbands their parents we see the expression and effect of the passions humor and desires that both define their differences and shape their fierce attachment to each other and to their discordant past The Agüero Sisters is clear confirmation of Cristina García's standing in the front ranks of new American fiction
