CREATURELY THEOLOGY

ON GOD, HUMANS AND OTHER ANIMALS

Creaturely Theology God Humans And Other Animals:

Creaturely Theology Celia Deane-Drummond, David Clough, 2009 Creaturely Theology is a ground breaking scholarly collection of essays that maps out the agenda for the future study of the theology of the non human and the post human A wide range of first rate contributors show that theological reflection on non human animals and related issues are an important though hitherto neglected part of the agenda of Christian theology and related disciplines Animals, Theology and the Incarnation Kris Hiuser ,2017-05-30 How does an understanding of the non human lead us to a greater understanding of the incarnation Are non human animals morally relevant within Christian theology and ethics Is there a human ethical responsibility towards non human animals In Animals Theology and the Incarnation Kris Hiuser argues that if we are called to represent both God to creation and creation to God then this has considerable bearing on understanding what it means to be human as well as informing human action towards non human creatures Animals as Religious Subjects Celia Deane-Drummond, Rebecca Artinian-Kaiser, David L. Clough, 2013-07-18 This book examines one of the most pressing cultural concerns that surfaced in the last decade the question of the place and significance of the animal This collection of essays represents the outcome of various conversations regarding animal studies and shows multidisciplinary at its very best namely a rigorous approach within one discipline in conversation with others around a common theme The contributors discuss the most relevant disciplines regarding this conversation namely philosophy anthropology religious studies theology history of religions archaeology and cultural studies The first section Thinking about Animals explores philosophical anthropological and religious perspectives raising general questions about the human perception of animals and its crucial cultural significance The second section explores the intriguing topic of the way animals have been used historically as religious symbols and in religious rituals The third section re examines some Christian theological and biblical approaches to animals in the light of current concerns The final section extends the implications of traditional views about other animals to more specific ethical theories and practices On Animals David L. Clough, 2012-02-02 This volume is a project in systematic theology a rigorous engagement with the Christian tradition in relation to animals under the doctrinal headings of creation reconciliation and redemption and in dialogue with the Bible and theological voices central to the tradition The book shows that such engagement with the tradition with the question of the animal in mind produces surprising answers that challenge modern anthropocentric assumptions For the most part therefore the novelty of the project lies in the questions raised rather than the proposal of innovative answers to it The transformation in our thinking about animals for which the book argues results in the main from looking squarely for the first time at the sum of what we are already committed to believing about other animals and their place in God's creation Ecotheology in the Humanities Melissa Brotton, 2016-05-20 This book is a collection of essays about the interaction between God humans and nature in the context of the environmental challenges and Biblical studies Chapters include topics on creation care and Sabbath sacramental approaches to earth care classical and medieval cosmologies ecotheodicy how we understand the problem of nonhuman suffering in a world controlled by a good God ecojustice and how humans help to alleviate nonhuman suffering The book seeks to provide a way to understand Judeo Christian perspectives on human to nonhuman interaction through Biblical literary cultural film and music studies and as such offers an interdisciplinary approach with emphasis on the humanities which provides a broader platform for ecotheology

On Animals: Systematic Theology David L. Clough, 2012-02-02 The first book length study of the place of animals in systematic theology The Cambridge Companion to Christianity and the Environment Alexander J. B. Hampton, Douglas Hedley, 2022-08-04 How one of the world's most important religions Christianity shaped one of the important issues of our time the environment Animal Theologians Andrew Linzey, Clair Linzey, 2023 Many people who have thought about God have not thought about animals or about the relationship between the two But among those who have are some of the most celebrated religious thinkers including Michel de Montaigne Thomas Tryon John Wesley John Ruskin Leo Tolstoy Mohandas K Gandhi Albert Schweitzer and Paul Tillich This volume comprises 24 scholarly studies that detail challenges to the dominant anthropocentrism of most religious traditions The editors have brought together Jewish Unitarian Christian transcendentalist Muslim Hindu Dissenting deist and Quaker voices each offering a unique theological perspective that counters the neglect of the nonhuman Animal Theologians is divided into three parts starting with the pioneers who first saw a relationship between animals and divinity those who contributed to the expansion of social sensibility to animals and ending with the work of contemporary theologians The essays in this volume use contextual and historical background to describe what led animal theologians to their beliefs and then pave way for further developments in this expanding field This volume is an act of reclaiming different religious traditions for animals by recovering lost voices

On Animals David L. Clough, 2018-12-27 This book presents an authoritative and comprehensive survey of human practice in relation to other animals together with a Christian ethical analysis building on the theological account of animals which David Clough developed in On Animals Volume I Systematic Theology 2012 It argues that a Christian understanding of other animals has radical implications for their treatment by humans with the human use and abuse of non human animals for food the most urgent immediate priority Following an introduction examining the task of theological ethics in relation to non human animals and the way it relates to other accounts of animal ethics this book surveys and assesses the use humans make of other animals for food for clothing for labour as research subjects for sport and entertainment as pets or companions and human impacts on wild animals The result is both a state of the art account of what humans are doing to other animals and a persuasive argument that Christians in particular have strong faith based reasons to acknowledge the significance of the issues raised and change their practice in response

Verbs, Bones, and Brains Agustín Fuentes, Aku Visala, 2017-01-15 A benchmark collection of essays on the contemporary understanding of human nature engaging biology and anthropology to theology and philosophy Robin W Lovin

Cary M Maguire University Professor of Ethics emeritus Southern Methodist University author of What Do We Do When No One is Listening Leading the Church in a Polarized Society The last few decades have seen an unprecedented surge of empirical and philosophical research into the evolutionary history of Homo sapiens the origins of the mind brain and human culture This research has sparked heated debates about the nature of human beings and how knowledge about humans from the sciences and humanities should be properly understood The goal of Verbs Bones and Brains Interdisciplinary Perspectives on Human Nature is to engage these themes and present current debates discussions and discourse for a range of readers The contributors bring the discussion to life with key experts outlining major concepts paired with cross disciplinary commentaries in order to create a novel approach to thinking about and with human natures Throughout they emphasize the importance of seeking a convergence in our views on human nature despite metaphysical disagreements They caution that if convergence eludes us and a common ground cannot be found this is itself a relevant result it would reveal to us how deeply our questions about ourselves are connected to our basic metaphysical assumptions Instead their focus is on how the interdisciplinary and possibly transdisciplinary conversation can be enhanced in order to identify and develop a common ground on what constitutes human nature A landmark volume It shows the fruitfulness of a mutually respectful and yet rigorous approach to cross disciplinary engagement William Storrar Center of Theological Inquiry Princeton NJ editor of A World for All Global Civil Society in Political Theory and Trinitarian Theology Fascinating well organized and well edited Choice
