Cavanaugh,2025-02-14 The Catholic Church is the world s largest non governmental provider of health care more than a quarter of all the health care facilities in the world are under Catholic auspices Those facilities however range from technologically sophisticated urban hospitals to small under resourced rural clinics Pope Francis has said Health care is not a luxury it is for everyone but the gap between health care for those with means to pay and those without continues to widen This volume gathers scholars and practitioners from around the world to reflect on some of the most pressing challenges to Catholic health care among some of the globe s most underserved people In addition to local narratives and analysis the volume also reflects dialogues between care providers in different parts of the global South and between practitioners in the global South and the global North The chapters in this volume question the missionary model of the rich North rescuing the poor South and show how a universal church can promote dialogue between Western and non Western medicine and traditions of care      Rethinking Green Politics John Barry,1999-02-22 Winner of the PSA Mackenzie Prize for best politics book of 1999 Rethinking Green Politics offers a wide ranging overview and critical analysis of the theoretical framework that underpins the values principles and concerns of contemporary green politics and the appropriate institutional means for realizing green ends      Catholicism and Politics in Communist Societies Sabrina P. Ramet,1990 This book is volume two of a three volume work Christianity Under Stress which focuses on the experiences of Christian churches in contemporary communist and socialist societies In this volume a distinguished group of experts examines the changing relationship of the Catholic church to contemporary communist and socialist societies in Eastern Europe Latin America and Asia Catholicism has on the one hand traditionally regarded earthly life as of secondary importance as an instrument of spiritual transformation and on the other has ascribed great value to the early institutions of the church taking great interest in temporal matters that affects its institutional concerns Against the backdrop of this duality the church has changed over the centuries adapting to local and national conditions Catholicism and Politics in Communist Societies surveys these local and national adaptations in their historical contexts linking the past experience of the church to its present circumstances Organized around themes of tradition vs modernity hierarchy vs lower clergy and institutional structure vs grass roots organization this comprehensive volume presents a detailed country by country portrait of the political and social status of the church today in communist and socialist settings Contributors Pedro Ramet Arthur F McGovern Roman Solchanyk Ivan Hvat Robert F Goeckel C Chrypinski Milan J Reban Leslie Laszlo Janice Broun Eric O Hanson Stephen Denney Thomas E Quigley Humberto Belli Hansjakob Stehle George H Williams     The Future of Development Gustavo Esteva,Salvatore J. Babones,Philipp Babicky,2013-10-09 On January 20 1949 US President Harry S Truman officially opened the era of development On that day over one half of the people of the world were defined as underdeveloped and they have stayed that way ever since This book explains the origins of development and underdevelopment and shows how poorly we understand these two terms It offers a new vision for development demystifying the statistics that international organizations use to measure development and introducing the alternative concept of buen vivir the state of living well The authors argue that it is possible for everyone on the planet to live well but only if we learn to live as communities rather than as individuals and to nurture our respective commons Scholars and students of global development studies are well aware that development is a difficult concept This thought provoking book offers them advice for the future of development studies and hope for the future of humankind
