Andrew Crisell

Claims To Memory Beyond Slavery And Emancipation In The French Caribbean Polygons:

Claims to Memory Catherine Reinhardt, 2007-12-01 Why do the people of the French Caribbean still continue to be haunted by the memory of their slave past more than one hundred and fifty years after the abolition of slavery What process led to the divorce of their collective memory of slavery and emancipation from France s portrayal of these historical phenomena How are Martinicans and Guadeloupeans today transforming the silences of the past into historical and cultural manifestations rooted in the Caribbean This book answers these questions by relating the 1998 controversy surrounding the 150th anniversary of France s abolition of slavery to the period of the slave regime spanning the late Enlightenment and the French Revolution By comparing a diversity of documents including letters by slaves free people of color and planters as well as writings by the philosophes royal decrees and court cases the author untangles the complex forces of the slave regime that have shaped collective memory The current nationalization of the memory of slavery in France has turned these once peripheral claims into passionate political and cultural debates

Seeking Imperialism's Embrace Kristen Stromberg Childers, 2016-09-01 In 1946 at a time when other French colonies were just beginning to break free of French imperial control the people of the French Antilles the Caribbean islands of Martinique and Guadeloupe voted to join the French nation as departments D partments d outre mer or DOMs Eschewing independence in favor of complete integration with the metropole the people of the French Antilles affirmed their Frenchness in an important decision that would define their citizenship and shape their politics for decades to come For Antilleans this novel path was the natural culmination of a centuries long quest for recognition of their equality with the French and a means of overcoming the entrenched political and economic power of the islands white minority Disappointment with departmentalization quickly set in Kristen Stromberg Childers shows in this work as the promised equality was slow in coming and Antillean contributions to World War II went unrecognized Champions of departmentalization such as Aim C saire argued that the race blind Republic was far from universal and egalitarian The French government struggled to stem unrest through economic development tourism and immigration to the metropole where labor was in short supply Antilleans fought against racial and gender stereotypes imposed on them by European French and sought to stem the tide of white metropolitan workers arriving in the Antilles Although departmentalization has been criticized as a weak alternative to national independence it was overwhelmingly popular among Antilleans at the time of the vote and subsequent disappointment reflects the broken promises of assimilation more than the misguided nature of the decision Contrasting with the wars of decolonization in Algeria and Vietnam Seeking Imperialism's Embrace examines the Antilleans more peaceful but perhaps equally vexing process of forging a national identity in the French empire

French Politics, Culture and Society, 2006 The Meanings of Magic Amy Wygant, 2006-12-01 The notion of magic is a current popular culture phenomenon Harry Potter the Lord of the Rings the commercial glamour of the footballer and the pop idol surround us with their charisma enchantment and charm But magic also exerts a terrifying political hold upon us bin Laden's alleged March 28 e-mail message spoke of the attacks on America in form of crushing its towers disgracing its arrogance undoing its magic The nine scholars included in this volume consider the cultural power of magic from early Christianity and the ancient Mediterranean to the curious film career of Buffalo Bill focusing on topics such as Surrealism France in the classical age alchemy and American fundamentalism ranging from popular to elite magic from theory to practice from demonology to exoticism from the magic of memory to the magic of the stage As these essays show magic defines the limit of both science and religion but as such remains indefinable

Cultures of Colour Chris Horrocks, 2012-06-01 Colour permeates contemporary visual and material culture and affects our senses beyond the superficial encounter by infiltrating our perceptions and memories and becoming deeply rooted in thought processes that categorise and divide along culturally constructed lines Colour exists as a cultural as well as psycho-physical phenomenon and acquires a multitude of meanings within differing historical and cultural contexts The contributors examine how colour becomes imbued with specific symbolic and material meanings that tint our constructions of race gender ideal bodies the relationship of the self to others and of the self to technology and the built environment By highlighting the relationship of colour across media and material culture this volume reveals the complex interplay of cultural connotations discursive practices and socio-psychological dynamics of colour in an international context

Comics in French Laurence Grove, 2010-07-01 Whereas in English speaking countries comics are for children or adults who should know better in France and Belgium the form is recognized as the Ninth Art and follows in the path of poetry architecture painting and cinema The bande dessinée comic strip has its own national institutions regularly obtains front page coverage and has received the accolades of statesmen from De Gaulle onwards On the way to providing a comprehensive introduction to the most francophone of cultural phenomena this book considers national specificity as relevant to an anglophone reader whilst exploring related issues such as text-image expression historical precedents and sociological implication To do so it presents and analyses priceless manuscripts a Franco-American rodent Nazi propaganda a museum piece urinal intellectual gay porn and a prehistoric warrior who's really Zinedine Zidane

Stardom in Postwar France John Gaffney, Diana Holmes, 2008-02-01 The 1950s and 1960s were a key moment in the development of postwar France The period was one of rapid change derived from post-World War II economic and social modernization yet many traditional characteristics were retained By analyzing the eruption of the new postwar world in the context of a France that was both modern and traditional we can see how these worlds met and interacted and how they set the scene for the turbulent 1960s and 70s The examination of the development of mass culture in post-war France undertaken in this volume offers a valuable insight into the shifts that took place By exploring stardom from the domain of cinema and other fields represented here by famous figures such as Brigitte Bardot Johnny Hallyday or Jean-Luc Godard and less conventionally treated areas of enquiry politics de Gaulle literary Françoise Sagan and intellectual culture Lévi-Strauss the reader is provided with a broad understanding of the mechanisms of popularity and success and their cultural social and political roles The picture that emerges shows that many cultural articulations remained or became identifiably French in spite of the American mass culture origins of these social economic and cultural transformations More Than a Music Box Andrew Crisell,2006 Showing how in North America the United Kingdom Europe Australia and the South Pacific radio provides distinctive forms of content for the individual listener this volume also shows how it enables ethnic and cultural groups to maintain their sense of identity It suggests that the benefits and gratifications which radio confers remain unique London Eyes Gail Cunningham,Stephen Barber,2007 London incessantly generates and incites cultural responses pre eminently in the interconnected domains of literature and film This book demonstrates that those responses have been sustained as vital experiments and engagements in configuring the city and its inhabitants Including essays by prominent cultural literary and film historians this volume forms an original and incisive contribution to ongoing debates about the city s intricate cultural history and its construction through both language and image as a crucial site of identity desire exile and displacement MLA International Bibliography of Books and Articles on the Modern Languages and Literatures ,2006
