Color Of Bureaucracy Politics Of Equity In Multicultural School Communities:

The Color of Bureaucracy Colleen L. Larson, Carlos Julio Ovando, 2001 Future educators must be aware of educational experiences that will challenge deeply rooted assumptions about communities different from their own and achieve an understanding of the realities of other peoples lives Since many educators misinterpret the social racial and political problems they see and as a result blame the minority and poverty stricken students for not effectively adjusting to the norms and expectations of the educational system the authors of THE COLOR OF BUREAUCRACY takes an inquiry practice driven approach to understanding multicultural issues The text immerses the reader in social cultural and political problems through case studies told from multiple perspectives and presents strategies for effective intervention unlike any other multicultural textbook Captivating case studies provide a vehicle for actively engaging students in interpreting understanding and responding to complex problems of practice Opportunities for self reflection and self discovery are presented throughout and help future teachers see how they view their own roles and responsibilities and guides the development of their professional identities conducive to understanding multiple communities within the school

Advancing Equity and Achievement in America's Diverse Schools Camille Wilson, Sonya Horsford, 2013-09-05 Advancing Equity and Achievement in America's Diverse Schools illustrates how educators students families and community partners can work in strategic ways to build on social cultural and ethnic diversity to advance educational equity and achievement By drawing on the latest data on demographic change constructions of culture and cultural difference and the politics of school reform in urban rural and suburban school communities this volume looks toward solutions and strategies for meaningful educational improvement Contributors consider both the diversity of youth and families served in public schools and the culture of U S schooling highlighting the influence of policy and reform agendas students identities and agency experiences and approaches of diverse educators and the workings of effective school partnerships Chapters also focus on those often overlooked in educational scholarship such as Native Americans students experiencing poverty and or homelessness Muslim students students with special needs and students and educators who are lesbian gay bisexual transgender intersex or queer In all this edited collection stresses the need for high quality education that is inclusive culturally responsive and unifying so all students can experience academic success This book is a meaningful resource for educators policymakers and community based leaders interested in doing such transformative work Struggling for Inclusion James Ryan, 2012-03-01 This book describes the struggles in which inclusive minded administrators find themselves when they promote equity initiatives Administrators routinely struggle when they attempt to include all members of their school communities teachers students and parents in the various aspects of schooling Given the presence of a host of obstacles setting right the injustices associated with racism classism sexism ableism homophobia and other exclusive practices is not an easy thing to do Resistance from colleagues who fail to recognize exclusive practices when they see them and from others who do recognize them but see no harm too few resources exclusive policies personal uncertainties or insecurities and conflicted priorities are just a few of the phenomena that get in the way of these efforts This book explores these struggles It looks at the contexts within which these encounters occur the various challenges that inclusive minded administrators encounter and the strategies that they employ to meet these tests Employing the results of original empirical studies surveys of current research recent theoretical literature and personal experiences this book seeks to provide school leaders with a sense of what it is like to promote inclusion and equity in the contemporary neoliberal context Among other things it looks to provide educators of an understanding of the obstacles that stand in the way of inclusion the nature of the struggles that await them and ideas for what they might do Among other things the book concludes that in relation to the pursuit of inclusion 1 exclusion continues to be part of contemporary schools and communities 2 struggles for inclusion transcend individual educators students and parents 3 administrators are sometimes part of the problem of exclusion 4 administrators struggle with issues of difference 5 administrators struggle with circumstances they inherit people with whom they work and with themselves and 6 administrators have resources to employ in their struggles for inclusion Jsl Vol 18-N3 JOURNAL OF SCHOOL LEADERSHIP,2009-09-16 The Journal of School Leadership is broadening the conversation about schools and leadership and is currently accepting manuscripts We welcome manuscripts based on cutting edge research from a wide variety of theoretical perspectives and methodological orientations The editorial team is particularly interested in working with international authors authors from traditionally marginalized populations and in work that is relevant to practitioners around the world Growing numbers of educators and professors look to the six bimonthly issues to deal with problems directly related to contemporary school leadership practice teach courses on school leadership and policy use as a quality reference in writing articles about school leadership and improvement Leadership from the Ground Up Michele A. Acker-Hocevar,Marta I. Cruz-Janzen,Cynthia L. Wilson,2012-01-01 This book chronicles the journey of seven schools serving students of poverty English Language Learners ELLs and students of color which were able to sustain school improvement for a decade on either state and or national criteria that measure student performance outcomes The book shares stories of these seven schools and demonstrates that it takes an entire school working together with their communities adding to the social and cultural capital of their students and families to create and nurture what we call a Learning Partnership for sustainable school improvement The answers for how these schools sustained school improvement and are effective schools is evident from their school student metrics that validate the school s ability to meet and sustain external mandates of high performance over time The seven individual case stories illustrate that what matters most is what happens in the school itself It is the internal culture of caring and respecting each other and working from an additive perspective of valuing students for their unique gifts and abilities rather than exclusively focusing on increasing test scores that makes these school stories unique This is not about heroic leadership but leadership spread out and shared among professionals working together to achieve common goals around shared values and beliefs This book is about using resources in ways that value human capital as the greatest asset in the school to ensure that educators feel a sense of commitment connection and passion for their work together with students their families and their communities that enable them to excel together We offer readers seven cases that demonstrate there is no cookie cutter approach to having an effective school Rather there is a theory in practice that grounds the Learning Partnership depicted as a tree within a sustainable school improvement culture This sustainable culture connects shared leadership and accountability resourcefulness a humanistic philosophy additive schooling and results in an organization synergy that sustains organizational and collective efficacy for achieving results in these schools that other educators in schools with similar demographics are often unable to sustain or attain

On Being Included Sara Ahmed, 2012-03-28 Ahmed argues that a commitment to diversity is frequently substituted for a commitment to actual change She traces the work that diversity does examining how the term is used and the way it serves to make questions about racism seem impertinent Her study is based in universities and her research is primarily in the UK and Australia but the argument is equally valid in North America and beyond
