Constructing The World:

Constructing the World David J. Chalmers, 2012-10-04 David J Chalmers constructs a highly ambitious and original picture of the world from a few basic elements He returns to Rudolf Carnap's attempt to do the same and adopts the idea of scrutability according to which reasoning from a limited class of basic truths yields all truths about the world to address central themes in philosophy Constructing Worlds through Science Education John K. Gilbert, 2013-05-13 Internationally renowned and award winning author John Gilbert has spent the last thirty years researching thinking and writing about some of the central and enduring issues in science education He has contributed over twenty books and 400 articles to the field and is Editor in Chief of the International Journal of Science Education For the first time he brings together sixteen of his key writings in one volume This unique book highlights important shifts in emphasis in science education research the influence of important individuals and matters of national and international concern All this is interwoven in the following four themes explanation models and modeling in science education relating science education and technology education informal education in science and technology alternative conceptions and science education Constructing Worlds Otherwise Raúl Zibechi, 2024-04-16 A new collection from one of Latin America's most dynamic radical thinkers in the tradition of Frantz Fanon and Eduardo Galeano Constructing Worlds Otherwise sets itself against the recolonization of Latin America by one dimensional ethnocentric perspectives that permeate the North American left and block fundamental social change in the Global South In a provocative mix of polemic and on the ground analysis Raúl Zibechi argues that it is time for radicals in the Global North to learn from the people their governments have colonized and oppressed for centuries Through a survey of the most marginalized voices across Latin America feminists the Indigenous people of African descent and inhabitants of urban favelas and shantytowns he introduces the Anglo world to a range of critical perspectives and new forms of struggle For Zibechi real change comes from societies in movement the people already fighting for their survival using egalitarian and traditional models of world building without the state without official representatives and without vanguards of political experts His book contributes to global geographies of autonomous and anti state thinking with Zibechi placing his work in conversation with the ideological theorist of Kurdish resistance Abdullah Öcalan for a rich and dynamic survey of global movements of decolonization Now more urgent than ever this translation by George Ygarza Quispe comes at a time when the global left struggling to expand its vision in a time of climate chaos and rising authoritarianism finds itself at an impasse desperate to animate and renew its critical imaginary World Building Marta Boni, 2025-10-01 Thanks to modern technology we are now living in an age of multiplatform fictional worlds as television film the Internet graphic novels toys and more facilitate the creation of diverse yet compact imaginary universes which are often recognisable as brands and exhibit well defined identities This volume situated at the cutting edge of media theory explores this phenomenon from both theoretical and practical perspectives uncovering how the construction of these worlds influences our own determination of values and meaning in contemporary society Constructing Moral Concepts of God in a Global Age Myriam Renaud,2022-07-29 Constructing Moral Concepts of God in a Global Age focuses on what people say and think about God rather than on arguments about God's existence. It advances a theological method or step by step approach to explore and reframe personal convictions about God and the worldviews shaped by those convictions. Since a moral God is more likely to foster a moral life, this method integrates an ethical check to ensure that understandings of God and their associated worldviews are validly moral. The proposed method builds on the work of twentieth century theologian Gordon Kaufman during the Kantian phase of his work. It anticipates a person like God who hears prayers, loves without end, and comforts in times of hardship. To accommodate today's pluralistic and globalized world, the ethical check integrated in the method is a widely collaborative and vetted global ethic: the Parliament of the World's Religions Declaration Towards a Global Ethic. This volume of constructive philosophical theology is written for seminary students, educators, clergy, study groups, and anyone interested in delving more deeply and systematically into understandings of God, whether their own or those of others.
