Movements, 1768 - 2018 Charles Tilly, Ernesto Castañeda, Lesley J. Wood, 2019-07-24 Social Movements 1768 2018 provides the most comprehensive historical account of the birth and spread of social movements. Renowned social scientist Charles Tilly applies his synthetic theoretical skills to explain the evolution of social movements across time and space in an accessible manner full of historical vignettes and examples. Tilly explains why social movements are but a type of contentious politics to decrease categorical inequalities. Questions addressed include what are the implications of globalization and new technologies for social movements and what are the prospects for social movements. The overall argument includes data from mobilizations in England, Switzerland, Czechoslovakia, Russia, China, India, Argentina, Chile, Cuba, Mexico, Egypt, Tunisia, Iran, Iraq, and Kazakhstan. This new edition has been fully updated and revised with young researchers and students in mind. New case studies focus on social movements in Mexico, Spain, and the United States, including Black Lives Matter, immigrants' rights struggles, The Indignados, the Catalan movement for independence, YoSoy132, Ayotzinapa 43, mass incarceration, and prisoner rights, and more. Timelines are included to familiarise the reader with the events discussed, and discussion questions are framed to increase understanding of the implications, limits, and importance of historical and ongoing social movements.

Sport and Violence: Rethinking Elias Dominique Bodin, Luc Robène, 2018-07-26 The aim of this book in discussing Elias's theory is not to refute it. Tendentiously, the theory works with its weaknesses and strong points, and it has been enriched by a number of authors over time. The objective of this volume is to discuss the blind spots and, more simply, what is too often taken for granted, namely the obvious pacifying effect of sports and/or produced by sports. This analysis has been guided by two perspectives: the sociological one, which questions the naturalization of sport, which is also the naturalization of the wildlings, which have to be civilized; and the other, which comes from philosophical anthropology and attempts to comprehend the long-term characteristics of this union or disunion of sport and violence.

A Place to Call Home Ernesto Castañeda, 2018-05-29 As immigrants settle in new places, they are faced with endless uncertainties that prevent them from feeling that they belong. From language barriers to differing social norms to legal boundaries separating them from established residents, they are constantly navigating shifting and contradictory expectations: both to assimilate to their new culture and to honor their native one. In A Place to Call Home, Ernesto Castañeda offers a uniquely comparative portrait of immigrant expectations and experiences. Drawing on fourteen years of ethnographic observation and hundreds of interviews with documented and undocumented immigrants and their children, Castañeda sets out to determine how different locations can aid or disrupt the process of immigrant integration. Focusing on New York City, Paris, and Barcelona immigration hubs in their respective countries, he compares the experiences of both Latino and North African migrants and finds that subjective understandings, local contexts, national and regional history, and religious institutions are all factors that profoundly impact the personal journey to belonging.

Racial Justice, Policies and Courts' Legal Reasoning in Europe María Elósegui, Cristina Hermida, 2017-04-08 This volume looks at how courts and the police handle racial discrimination in Europe.

The chapters show that beyond legal technique neither the legislators nor the judges escape from their own emotions when responding to racial discrimination. But as the authors point out, emotions are not always negative. They can also help in a positive way in judicial interpretation. The study profiles five countries: Germany, UK, Estonia, Portugal, and Spain. Each of these belongs both to the European Union and to the Council of Europe. Coverage examines the responsibility of the public powers, more specifically of the legislative and judicial power, both of the police and of the judiciary in persecuting racist behavior. In addition, the authors also consider the increase in racism in groups of citizens. The authors argue that racial justice is a proactive reinforcement of policies, practices, attitudes, and actions that lead to equal access to opportunities for all. After reading this book, readers will gain a better understanding of the reasoning of legislators, police, and judges when dealing with racial discrimination in Europe today.
