RELIGIOUS SYNCRETISM IN AFRICAN CHRISTIANITY ISIAH OLUWAJEMIRIYE OLATOYAN, 2024-04-18 Christianity among the African people whether on the soil of Africa or in diaspora

is perceived and defined differently by different people For instance among African traditional religious people and Muslims Christianity is a foreign religion that must not be allowed to thrive in Africa To several Africans who profess Jesus Christianity is good but it is not adequate and effective enough to handle all human needs Still among some Western Christians and missionaries African Christianity is superficial and lacks total commitment to Christ Of course the Africans are a cultural people with profound religious inclinations Their traditional religion ATR has tremendously shaped their worldviews and socioeconomic and political activities Consequently when traditional Africans are converted to Christianity they do not break ties with their traditional religions completely The examination of relevant biblical texts on syncretism however reveals that God condemns the worship of many gods and places a curse on anyone who offers sacrifices to carved images and bows to them in worship Therefore this work investigates the root cause of religious syncretism among African people In the attempt to find answers to why the average African Christian finds it difficult if not impossible to abandon his her traditional religious belief systems completely to embrace Christianity the author concludes that unless the issues surrounding the African forgotten and secret covenants are exposed and decisively addressed in the light of biblical teaching syncretism will continue to be a stigma on the fabric of African Christianity Therefore to overcome the threats of syncretism in African Christianity there is a need to establish a sound theological and missiological framework that can address the problems associated with the African worldviews and belief systems This task must be carried out under the searchlight of Scriptures

Southern Africa in World Politics Janice Love, 2018-03-09 These days politics often seem to be local and global simultaneously challenging people politicians and scholars to sort out what is domestic from what is international and how the two are related Janice Love demonstrates the complex realities of how local and global politics are intimately interwoven sometimes inextricably so specifically in southern Africa In southern Africa like many other regions such linkages have existed for decades if not centuries Yet the current era is different from previous times when human communities found themselves closely intertwined Love examines military political and economic changes in recent decades Students of international relations comparative politics and African studies will find the region s experience instructive in understanding larger trends in the world Students particularly interested in Africa will gain insight not only about this region but also its significance for the whole continent Deliberately crosses the boundaries of domestic politics and foreign policy as well as comparative politics and international relations By taking a globalization approach connecting the local regional and global the book offers fresh insights into the dynamics of war and peace wealth and poverty as well as local to global governance in southern Africa Examines globalization in three arenas or domains military political and economic not only distinguishing them from each other but also probing what has changed and what has remained the same across time
