Challenge to the Nation-State Christian Joppke, 1998 This volume presents the latest research by some of the world's leading figures in the fast growing area of immigration studies Relating the study of immigration to wider processes of social change the book focuses on two key areas in which nation states are being challenged by this phenomenon sovereignty and citizenship Bringing together the separate clusters of scholarship which have evolved around both of these areas Challenge to the Nation State disentangles the many contrasting views on the impact of immigration on the authority and integrity of the state Some scholars have stressed the stubborn resistance of states to relinquish territorial control the continued relevance of national citizenship traditions and the balkanizing risks of ethnically divided societies Others have argued that migrations are fostering a post national world In their view states immigration policies are increasingly constrained by global markets and an international human rights regime membership as citizenship is devalued by new forms of postnational membership for migrants and national monocultures are giving way to multicultural diversity Focusing on the issue of sovereignty in the first section and citizenship in the second this compelling new study seeks to clarify the central stakes and opposing positions in this important and complex debate

The Kurds and the Politics of Turkey Deniz Çifçi, 2019-08-08 The Kurds constitute the largest stateless nation in the world Their position in Turkey attracts attention both within the country and internationally particularly focusing on the demand for Kurdish independence Yet since the 1990s new Kurdish parties have formed within Turkey who have a variety of ideologies and demands that go beyond and differ in opinion on the question of independence Much of the present literature on the topic looks at the Kurds of Turkey as a homogenous group with unified political demands which over simplifies their position within the political backdrop of Turkey This book seeks to provide nuance and depth to the current debate on Kurdish political agency and presence in Turkey Presently the Kurds political demands can be classified into four categories democratic autonomy their cultural rights to be granted federalism territorial autonomies and independence creation of a Kurdish nation state In a broad sense these models can also be ordered into two categories territorial political models federalism and independence and non territorial political models democratic autonomy and cultural rights Considering the diversity within the Kurdish community intertwinement of tribal ethnic and national identity and differences in their language religion and ideology there are several contributing factors for the emergence of the current varied political demands of Kurds By explaining variation among the Kurds political demands through close analysis of existing at emerging parties this study challenges a deterministic approach to the Kurds which currently dominates the discourse Contesting

Citizenship in Latin America Deborah J. Yashar, 2005-03-07 Indigenous people in Latin America have mobilized in unprecedented ways demanding recognition equal protection and subnational autonomy These are remarkable developments in a region where ethnic cleavages were once universally described as weak Recently however indigenous activists and elected officials have increasingly shaped national political deliberations Deborah Yashar explains the contemporary and uneven emergence of Latin American indigenous movements addressing both why indigenous identities have become politically salient in the contemporary period and why they have translated into significant political organizations in some places and not others She argues that ethnic politics can best be explained through a comparative historical approach that analyzes three factors changing citizenship regimes social networks and political associational space Her argument provides insight into the fragility and unevenness of Latin America s third wave democracies and has broader implications for the ways in which we theorize the relationship between citizenship states identity and social action Between Islam and the State Berna Turam, 2007 Examines how shifting power dynamics between the state and Islamic forces during the 1990s have transformed both Islam and the Turkish state
