Evaluative Informetrics: The Art of Metrics-Based Research Assessment Cinzia Daraio,Wolfgang Glänzel,2020-07-23 We intend to edit a Festschrift for Henk Moed combining a best of collection of his papers and new contributions original research papers by authors having worked and collaborated with him The outcome of this original combination aims to provide an overview of the advancement of the field in the intersection of bibliometrics informetrics science studies and research assessment Analysis and Visualization of Citation Networks Dangzhi Zhao, Andreas Strotmann, 2022-06-01 Citation analysis the exploration of reference patterns in the scholarly and scientific literature has long been applied in a number of social sciences to study research impact knowledge flows and knowledge networks It has important information science applications as well particularly in knowledge representation and in information retrieval Recent years have seen a burgeoning interest in citation analysis to help address research management or information service issues such as university rankings research evaluation or knowledge domain visualization This renewed and growing interest stems from significant improvements in the availability and accessibility of digital bibliographic data both citation and full text and of relevant computer technologies The former provides large amounts of data and the latter the necessary tools for researchers to conduct new types of large scale citation analysis even without special access to special data collections Exciting new developments are emerging this way in many aspects of citation analysis This book critically examines both theory and practical techniques of citation network analysis and visualization one of the two main types of citation analysis the other being evaluative citation analysis To set the context for its main theme the book begins with a discussion of the foundations of citation analysis in general including an overview of what can and what cannot be done with citation analysis Chapter 1 An in depth examination of the generally accepted steps and procedures for citation network analysis follows including the concepts and techniques that are associated with each step Chapter 2 Individual issues that are particularly important in citation network analysis are then scrutinized namely field delineation and data sources for citation analysis Chapter 3 disambiguation of names and references Chapter 4 and visualization of citation networks Chapter 5 Sufficient technical detail is provided in each chapter so the book can serve as a practical how to guide to conducting citation network analysis and visualization studies While the discussion of most of the topics in this book applies to all types of citation analysis the structure of the text and the details of procedures examples and tools covered here are geared to citation network analysis rather than evaluative citation analysis This conscious choice was based on the authors observation that compared to evaluative citation analysis citation network analysis has not been covered nearly as well by dedicated books despite the fact that it has not been subject to nearly as much severe criticism and has been substantially enriched in recent years with new theory and techniques from research areas such as network science social network analysis or information visualization Table of Contents Acknowledgment Dedications Foundations of Citation Analysis Conducting Citation Network Analysis Steps Concepts Techniques and Tools Field Delineation and Data Sources for Citation Analysis Disambiguation in Citation Network Analysis Visualization of Citation Networks Appendix 3 3 Appendix 5 4 2 Bibliography Author Biographies Handbook on the Theory and Practice of Program Evaluation Albert N. Link, Nicholas S. Vonortas, 2013-01-01 The economic crisis has simultaneously placed a strong emphasis on the role of R D as an engine of economic growth and a demand that limited public resources are demonstrated to have had the maximum possible impact

Rigorous evaluation is the key to meeting these needs This Handbook brings together highly experienced leaders in the field to provide a comprehensive and well organised state of the art overview of the range of methods available It will prove invaluable to experienced practitioners students in the field and more widely to those who want to increase their understanding of the complex and pervasive ways in which technological advance contributes to economic and social progress Luke Georghiou University of Manchester UK Theoretical and empirical research on program evaluation has advanced rapidly in scope and quality A concomitant trend is increasing pressure on policymakers to show that programs are effective Now is the time for a comprehensive status report on state of the art research and methods by leading scholars in a variety of disciplines on program evaluation This outstanding collection of contributions will serve as a valuable reference tool for academics policymakers and practitioners for many years to come Donald S Siegel University at Albany SUNY US There has been a dramatic increase in expenditures on public goods over the past thirty years particularly in the area of research and development As governments explore the many opportunities for growth in this area they and the general public are becoming increasingly concerned with the transparency accountability and performance of public programs This pioneering Handbook offers a collection of critical essays on the theory and practice of program evaluation written by some of the most well known experts in the field As this volume demonstrates a wide variety of methodologies exist to evaluate particularly the objectives and outcomes of research and development programs These include surveys statistical and econometric estimations patent analyses bibliometrics scientometrics network analyses case studies and historical tracings Contributors divide these and other methods and applications into four categories economic non economic hybrid and data driven in order to discuss the many factors that affect the utility of each technique and how that impacts the technological economic and societal forecasts of the programs in question Scholars practitioners and students with an interest in economics and innovation will all find this Handbook an invaluable resource Bibliometrics and Research Evaluation Yves Gingras, 2016-09-30 Why bibliometrics is useful for understanding the global dynamics of science but generate perverse effects when applied inappropriately in research evaluation and university rankings The research evaluation market is booming Ranking metrics h index and impact factors are reigning buzzwords Government and research administrators want to evaluate everything teachers professors training programs universities using quantitative indicators Among the tools used to measure research excellence bibliometrics aggregate data on publications and citations has become dominant Bibliometrics is hailed as an objective measure of research quality a quantitative measure more useful than subjective and intuitive evaluation methods such as peer review that have been used since scientific papers were first published in the seventeenth century In this book Yves Gingras offers a spirited argument against an unquestioning reliance on bibliometrics as an indicator of research quality Gingras shows that bibliometric rankings have no real scientific validity rarely measuring what they pretend to Although the study of publication and citation patterns at the proper scales can yield insights on the global dynamics of science over time ill defined quantitative indicators often generate perverse and unintended effects on the direction of research Moreover abuse of bibliometrics occurs when data is manipulated to boost rankings Gingras looks at the politics of evaluation and argues that using numbers can be a way to control scientists and diminish their autonomy in the evaluation process Proposing precise criteria for establishing the validity of indicators at a given scale of analysis Gingras questions why universities are so eager to let invalid indicators influence their research strategy

The Web of Knowledge Eugene Garfield, 2000 This new ASIST monograph is the first to comprehensively address the history theory and practical applications of citation analysis a field which has grown from Garfield's seed of an idea and to examine its impact on scholarly research forty years after its inception In bringing together the analyses insights and reflections of more than thirty five leading lights editors Cronin and Atkins have produced both a comprehensive survey of citation indexing and its applications and a beautifully realized tribute to Eugene Garfield and his vision in honor of his seventy fifth birthday
