Planning for the Caring City Claire Freeman, Etienne Nel, 2024-04-29 As the world has become increasingly urbanised and planetary well being ever more threatened questions have emerged over just what the priorities should be for how we live in cities Clearly for many the current ways of planning and managing city environments are not working given so many of their human and non human inhabitants struggle on a daily basis to maintain their well being and survival Different approaches to city development are crucial if they are to be inclusive places where all can thrive Ensuring that cities are safe and sustainable and provide a level of care for all their residents places a significant mandate on those who manage cities and on planners in particular This book examines all the parts of the city where care needs to be incorporated how we plan create nurturing environments include all who live there build sensitively support meaningful livelihoods and enable compassionate governance With planners in mind this book examines why care is needed in the urban environment and drawing on real world examples examines how it can be applied in an effective and empowering fashion

Intercultural Cities Bob W. White, 2017-10-09 This book sets out to explore the political and social potential of intercultural policy for cities by bringing together advances in the areas of urban planning and intercultural theory In recent years demographic changes in cities in many parts of the world have led to increasing concerns about inter ethnic tensions social inequality and racial discrimination By virtue of their intermediate status cities are in a particularly good position to design policy and programs that contribute to the well being of all citizens regardless of their origins Certain cities have made significant advances in this domain but until now very little work has been done to understand the specificity of work in the area of intercultural policy frameworks The overall goal of this volume is to facilitate conversations between researchers and practitioners in their efforts to make cities more inclusive This volume is the result of a series of on going collaborations between academics and practitioners and it includes a number of original case studies that explain the evolution of intercultural policy from the point of view local actors This collection will be of interest especially to policymakers and urban planners but also to scholars and students in the areas of urban studies public policy anthropology sociology globalization and social sciences more generally By leveraging recent advances in the field of intercultural policy and practice this volume sheds light on the conditions and strategies that make intercultural cities a part of a common future

The Legal and Political Geography of Pluralism Francesco Chiodelli, Stefano Moroni, 2025-01-23 Is it legitimate to prohibit political activities in a shopping centre or the wearing of the full Islamic veil in a public space This book addresses such questions of pluralism in a time of increasing ethnic religious and cultural diversity in the public and private spaces of our cities Analysing different types of regulation property rights municipal ordinances and urban planning the authors reflect on the kinds of rules public institutions should accept in relation to private spaces and should promote in relation to public spaces in order to protect and support pluralism

Handbook of the Geographies of Religion Lily Kong, Orlando Woods, Justin K.H. Tse, 2024-12-02 This international and interdisciplinary handbook offers a comprehensive and an in depth overview of contemporary research theory and practice in the geographies of religion in various parts of the world and with different populations The book showcases the major theoretical interventions in the field and the debates about the existential constitution of sacred space and what this means for secularization It outlines the most significant geographical themes related to these new developments with their implications for how to think about landscapes space bodies and worlds The book also discusses the future of the field especially in the realms of encounters and ethics economies and markets institutions and organisations movements and migrations and media and mediums It also offers views from disciplines outside of geography including from sociology anthropology religious studies and media and communications which demonstrates the contributions of geographers of religion to wider intellectual conversations and debates

Tensions in Diversity Felicity Hwee-Hwa Chan, 2022-11-01 Urban landscapes are complex spaces of sociocultural diversity characterized by narratives of both conviviality and conflict As people with multiple ethnicities and nationalities find their common destinies in thriving globalizing cities social cohesiveness becomes more precarious as different beliefs practices ambitions values and affiliations intersect in close proximity producing social tensions Tensions in Diversity presents a multi method comparative study that draws on the experiences of 140 residents of native and immigrant origin community organizers and municipal officers in three culturally diverse neighbourhoods of varying income levels in Los Angeles County Using cognitive mapping analysis combined with data from interviews surveys and participant observation this book explores how exactly coexistence is socio spatially experienced and negotiated in daily life Tensions in Diversity identifies the planning and design considerations that enable intercultural learning in the public places within diverse cities In doing so this book foregrounds urban space as an active force in shaping coexistence and convivial public environments

Intercultural Urbanism Dean Saitta, 2020-07-23 Cities today are paradoxical They are engines of innovation and opportunity but they are also plagued by significant income inequality and segregation by ethnicity race and class These inequalities and segregations are often reinforced by the urban built environment the planning of space and the design of architecture This condition threatens attainment of wider social and economic prosperity In this innovative new study Dean Saitta explores questions of urban sustainability by taking an intercultural trans historical approach to city planning Saitta uses a largely untapped body of knowledge the archaeology of cities in the ancient world to generate ideas about how public space housing and civic architecture might be better designed to promote inclusion and community while also making our cities more environmentally sustainable By integrating this knowledge with knowledge generated by evolutionary studies and urban ethnography including a detailed look at Denver Colorado one of America s most desirable and fastest growing destination cities but one that is also experiencing significant spatial segregation and gentrification Saitta s book offers an invaluable new perspective for urban studies scholars and urban planning professionals Routledge Companion to

Architecture, Urban Space and Politics, Volume I Nikolina Bobic, Farzaneh Haghighi, 2022-10-28 For architecture and urban space to have relevance in the 21st Century we cannot merely reignite the approaches of thought and design that were operative in the last century. This is despite or because of the nexus between politics and space often being theorized as a representation or by-product of politics. As a symbol or an effect, the spatial dimension is depoliticized. Consequently, architecture and the urban are halted from fostering any systematic change as they are secondary to the event and therefore incapable of performing any political role. This handbook explores how architecture and urban space can unsettle the unquestioned construct of the spatial politics of governing. Considering both ongoing and unprecedented global problems from violence and urban warfare, the refugee crisis, borderization, detention camps, terrorist attacks, to capitalist urbanization, inequity, social unrest, and climate change, this handbook provides a comprehensive and multidisciplinary research focused on the complex nexus of politics, architecture, and urban space. Volume I starts by pointing out the need to explore the politics of spatialization to make sense of the operational nature of spatial oppression in contemporary times. The operative and active political reading of space is disseminated through five thematic areas: Violence and War, Machines, Security and Borders, Race, Identity and Ideology, Spectacle and the Screen, and Mapping Landscapes and Big Data. This first volume of the handbook frames cutting-edge contemporary debates and presents studies of actual theories and projects that address spatial politics. This Handbook will be of interest to anyone seeking to meaningfully disrupt the reduction of space to an oppressive or neutral backdrop of political realities. Chapters 1 and 23 of this book are freely available as a downloadable Open Access PDF at <http://www.taylorfrancis.com> under a Creative Commons Attribution (CC BY) 4.0 license.
