Eric B. Gorham

Cism Manual 201:

Remote Manipulation Systems L.I. Slutski, 2012-12-06 A famous French writer Anatole France liked to say The future is a convenient place to position our dreams 1927 Indeed this remark gains full meaning when one considers the history of what we call today Robotics For more than 3000 years mankind has dreamt of the possibility of artificial machines that would have all the advantages of human slaves without any of their drawbacks With the developments in technology since the end of World War II mainly with the explosive progress of computers it was thought we might at last succeed in transforming this everlasting dream into reality In the mind of scientists of the 1950 s to make such intelligent and autonomous machines before the year 2000 seemed a small challenge it was obvious thanks to computers and Artificial Intelligence But in spite of progress in some directions we must admit that the dream remains a dream and that the basic problems denying us a successful issue are not solved In fact if we except industrial robots only calling for classical automata theory the main advanced result concerning autonomous and intelligent machines is related to some understanding of reasons why we have failed during the past years

The Counselor and the Group, Fourth Edition James P. Trotzer, 2013-08-21 This new more streamlined version of the 1999 third edition brings the existing materials and references up to date and omits information now readily available online and elsewhere The book is aimed at training group workers at the Masters level and may be used as a hands on text for group practitioners who are in the early stages of their group practice and or who want a resource that provides a structured problem solving approach to group work The book also features a specialty section on the topic of organizing and conducting crisis intervention groups using the model developed by Trotze

National Service, Citizenship, and Political Education Eric B. Gorham, 1992-01-01 This book analyzes the issues surrounding civilian national service policy from a fresh and original perspective The author connects national service programs to the political theories of civic republicanism and communitarianism assesses the practical consequences of these theories and examines past youth service programs such as the CCC and Peace Corps to see if they are appropriate models or ideals for a national program Gorham engages the issue of compulsory versus voluntary service and questions whether service tasks can instill a sense of citizenship in young people as defenders of the program claim Using the work of Michel Foucault Charles Taylor Carole Pateman and others he suggests that national service as presently planned will not create the citizen so much as a post industrial and gendered subject In the concluding chapters he presents an argument for a democratic national service and offers an alternative program for policymakers to consider
