Cities In Translation Intersections Of Language And Memory Sherry Simon:

Cities in Translation Sherry Simon, 2013-03 Cities in Translation looks at translation and language issues in the context of cities where there are two or more major languages Cities in Translation Sherry Simon, 2013-03-01 All cities are multilingual but there are some where language relations have a special importance These are cities where more than one historically rooted language community lays claim to the territory of the city This book focuses on four such linguistically divided cities Calcutta Trieste Barcelona and Montreal Though living with the ever present threat of conflict these cities offer the possibility of creative interaction across competing languages and this book examines the dynamics of translation in its many forms By focusing on a category of cities which has received little attention this study contributes to our understanding of the kinds of language relations that sustain the diversity of urban life Illustrated with photos and maps Cities in Translation is both an engaging read for a wide ranging audience and an important text in advancing theory and methodology in translation studies The Routledge Handbook of Translation and the City Tong King Lee, 2021-06-27 The Routledge Handbook of Translation and the City is the first multifaceted and cross disciplinary overview of how cities can be read through the lens of translation and how translation studies can be enriched by an understanding of the complex dynamics of the city Divided into four sections the chapters are authored by leading scholars in translation studies sociolinguistics and literary and cultural criticism They cover contexts from Brussels to Singapore and Melbourne to Cairo and topics from translation as resistance to translanguaging and urban design This volume explores the role of translation at critical junctures of a city's historical transformation as well as in the mundane intercultural moments of urban life and uncovers the trope of the translational city in writing This Handbook is critical reading for researchers scholars and advanced students in translation studies linguistics and urban studies Inhabiting Memory in Canadian Literature / Habiter la mémoire dans la littérature canadienne Benjamin Authers, Maïté Snauwaert, Daniel Laforest, 2017-11-30 This book examines the cultural work of space and memory in Canada and Canadian literature and encourages readers to investigate Canada within its regional national and global contexts It features seven chapters in English and five in French with a bilingual introduction The contributors invite us to recognize local intersections that are so easily overlooked yet are so important They reveal the unities and fractures in national understanding telling stories of otherness and marginality and of dislocation and unbelonging Ce livre examine l'importance culturelle de l'espace et de la mémoire en contexte canadien et plus spécifiquement dans les littératures du pays afin d'inviter des lectures neuves des questions régionales nationales et globales Il rassemble sept chapitres en anglais et cinq en français en plus d'une introduction bilingue Les contributions favorisant des approches thématiques et théoriques variées sont unies par leur désir de mettre en lumière des croisements inédits entre la mémoire et l'espace en tant qu'ils définissent certains des problèmes les plus brûlants de notre époque au Canada Syrène l'équilibre fort instable entre récits unitaires et fractures communautaires entre altérité et marginalité ou entre

dislocation et d'appartenance Contributors Collaborateurs Albert Braz Samantha Cook Jennifer Delisle Lise Gaboury Diallo Smaro Kamboureli Janne Korkka Andr Lamontagne Margaret Mackey Sherry Simon Pamela Sing Camille van der Marel Erin Wunker The Oxford Handbook of Latino Studies Ilan Stavans, 2020-03-03 At the beginning of the third decade of the 21st century the Latino minority the biggest and fastest growing in the United States is at a crossroads Is assimilation taking place in comparable ways to previous immigrant groups Are the links to the countries of origin being redefined in the age of contested globalism How are Latinos changing America and how is America changing Latinos The Oxford Handbook of Latino Studies reflects on these questions offering a sweeping exploration of Latinas and Latinos complex experiences in the United States Edited by leading expert Ilan Stavans the handbook traces the emergence of Latino studies as a vibrant and interdisciplinary field of research starting in the 1980s assessing the current state of the discipline while suggesting new paths for exploration With its twenty three essays and a conversation by established and emerging scholars the book discusses various aspects of Latino life and history from literature popular culture and music to religion philosophy and language identity The articles present new interpretations of important themes such as the Chicano Movement gender and race relations the changes in demographics the tension between rural and urban communities immigration and the US Mexico border the legacy of colonialism and the controversy surrounding Spanglish The first handbook on Latino Studies this collection offers a multifaceted and thought provoking look at how Latinos are redefining the American identity

Modernism in Trieste Salvatore Pappalardo, 2021-01-14 When we think about the process of European unification our conversations inevitably ponder questions of economic cooperation and international politics Salvatore Pappalardo offers a new and engaging perspective arguing that the idea of European unity is also the product of a modern literary imagination This book examines the idea of Europe in the modernist literature of primarily Robert Musil Italo Svevo and James Joyce but also of Theodor D ubler and Srecko Kosovel all authors who had a deep connection with the port city of Trieste Writing after World War I when the contested city joined Italy these authors resisted the easy nostalgia of the postwar period radically reimagining the origins of Europe in the Mediterranean culture of the Phoenicians contrasting a 19th century nationalist discourse that saw Europe as the heir of a Greek and Roman legacy These writers saw the Adriatic city a cosmopolitan bazaar under the Habsburg Empire as a social laboratory of European integration Modernism in Trieste seeks to fill a critical gap in the extant scholarship securing the literary history of Trieste within the context of current research on Habsburg and Austrian literature Fontaine and Cultural Mediation Robertson Ritchie, 2017-07-05 In the mid 1880s the Realist author and Anglophile Theodor Fontane observed nowhere is so much translation done as in Germany Characterizing Germany as a special locus of literary translation and reception Fontane contests a prejudice which has since become a significant problem for nineteenth century German studies namely the frequent assessment of the epoch as narrowly national The present collection of essays by thirteen eminent literary scholars and historians is intended to correct this prejudice it demonstrates that literary life and production in the nineteenth century were governed by complex networks of intercultural exchange influence and translation and it does justice to this complexity through its range of complementary critical approaches focussing on Fontane Anglo German relations translation and European reception In so doing this book not only offers a nuanced appreciation of literary production and reception in the nineteenth century but also demonstrates the continued relevance of that period for Germanists today

Translation and the Global City Judith Weisz Woodsworth, 2021-09-26

Translation and the Global City showcases fresh perspectives on translation in a global context drawing on case studies from Montreal and other multilingual cosmopolitan cities to examine the historical sociological and cultural factors underpinning the travel of languages ideas and cultures across borders Building on the spatial turn in translation studies the book adopts a bridge metaphor to explore the complexities of translational spaces and the ways in which translation acts can both unite and divide in the global city The collection initiates the discussion with a focus on the Canadian context and specifically the city of Montreal where historical circumstances public policy and shifting language politics have led to a burgeoning translation industry It goes on to address issues of translation in other regions and cities of the world generating new insights and opening avenues for further research into the relations between languages and cultures This volume will be of particular interest to students and scholars in translation studies especially those with an interest in translation theory and the sociology of translation
