Citizen Commonwealth Discourse Delivered Congregational:

The Citizen and the Commonwealth J. T. Tucker, 2015-07-11 Excerpt from The Citizen and the Commonwealth A Discourse Delivered in the First Congregational Church in Holliston on the Day of the Annual State Fast April 10 1851 If there should seem to be a want of modesty in the publication of this pamphlet the Author would suggest in extenuation that having given expression to his sentiments upon a topic just now furnishing matter of much exciting conversation and discussion in the community he felt it to be no more than due to himself to place these opinions beyond the liability of misconstruction and misrepresentation The Discourse is therefore given as spoken It is sent out upon its perilous way not without a hope moreover that to not a few it will commend itself as a word of soberness and truth a quickener of right feelings and a strengthener of right resolves About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books Find more at www.forgottenbooks.com This book is a reproduction of an important historical work Forgotten Books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy In rare cases an imperfection in the original such as a blemish or missing page may be replicated in our edition We do however repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works The Citizen and the Commonwealth. a Discourse Delivered in the First Congregational Church in Holliston, Mass., on the Day of the Annual State Fast, April 10, 1851 J T (Joshua Thomas) 1812-1897 Tucker, 2016-05-05 This work has been selected by scholars as being culturally important and is part of the knowledge base of civilization as we know it This work was reproduced from the original artifact and remains as true to the original work as possible Therefore you will see the original copyright references library stamps as most of these works have been housed in our most important libraries around the world and other notations in the work This work is in the public domain in the United States of America and possibly other nations Within the United States you may freely copy and distribute this work as no entity individual or corporate has a copyright on the body of the work As a reproduction of a historical artifact this work may contain missing or blurred pages poor pictures errant marks etc Scholars believe and we concur that this work is important enough to be preserved reproduced and made generally available to the public We appreciate your support of the preservation process and thank you for being an important part of keeping this knowledge alive and relevant The Citizen and the Commonwealth Joshua Thomas Tucker, 1851 The Citizen and the Commonwealth. A Discourse [on Job Xxxii. 10] Delivered in ... Holliston, Mass., on the Day of the Annual State Fast, Etc Joshua Thomas TUCKER, 1851 The citizen and the commonwealth. Catchers Stanley W. Campbell, 2012-12-01 In this thoroughly researched documentation of a historically controversial issue the author considers the background passage and constitutionality of the Fugitive Slave Law The author's relation of public opinion and the executive policy regarding the much disputed law will help the reader reach a decision as to whether the law was actually a success or failure legally and socially Originally published in 1970 A UNC Press Enduring Edition UNC Press Enduring Editions use the latest in digital technology to make available again books from our distinguished backlist that were previously out of print These editions are published unaltered from the original and are presented in affordable paperback formats bringing readers both historical and cultural value
