Picturing Punishment Anuradha Gobin,2021-07-30 Picturing Punishment examines representations of criminal bodies as they moved in through and out of publicly accessible spaces in the city during punishment rituals in the seventeenth century Dutch Republic Once put to death the criminal cadaver did not come to rest Its movement through public spaces indicated the potent afterlife of the deviant body especially its ability to transform civic life Focusing on material culture associated with key sites of punishment Anuradha Gobin argues that the circulation of visual media related to criminal punishments was a particularly effective means of generating discourse and formulating public opinion especially regarding the efficacy of civic authority Certain types of objects related to criminal punishments served a key role in asserting republican ideals and demonstrating the ability of officials to maintain order and control Conversely the circulation of other types of images such as inexpensive paintings and prints had the potential to subvert official messages As Gobin shows visual culture thus facilitated a space in which potentially dissenting positions could be formulated while also bringing together seemingly disparate groups of people in a quest for new knowledge Combining a diverse array of sources including architecture paintings prints anatomical illustrations and preserved body parts Picturing Punishment demonstrates how the criminal corpse was reactivated reanimated and in many ways reintegrated into society The Moving Statues of Seventeenth-Century Amsterdam Angela Vanhaelen,2022-08-05 This book opens a window onto a fascinating and understudied aspect of the visual material intellectual and cultural history of seventeenth century Amsterdam the role played by its inns and taverns specifically the doolhoven Doolhoven were a type of labyrinth unique to early modern Amsterdam Offering guest lodgings these licensed public houses also housed remarkable displays of artwork in their gardens and galleries The main attractions were inventive displays of moving mechanical figures automata and a famed set of waxwork portraits of the rulers of Protestant Europe Publicized as the most innovative artworks on display in Amsterdam the doolhoven exhibits presented the mercantile city as a global center of artistic and technological advancement This evocative tour through the doolhoven pub gardens where drinking entertainment and the acquisition of knowledge mingled in encounters with lively displays of animated artifacts shows that the exhibits had a forceful and transformative impact on visitors one that moved them toward Protestant reform Deeply researched and decidedly original The Moving Statues of Seventeenth Century Amsterdam uncovers a wealth of information about these nearly forgotten public pleasure parks situating them within popular culture religious controversies global trade relations and intellectual debates of the seventeenth century It will appeal in particular to scholars in art history and early modern studies Catalogue of Works on European Philology and the Minor European Languages Bernard Quaritch,1878 Modernising Protestantism Jo Spaans,2025-10-01 This book provides a thorough revision of the image of the public church under the Dutch Republic after the Peace of Westphalia and before the onset of the high Enlightenment Traditional church history considers the seventeenth and eighteenth centuries a period of decline Yet this was the high tide of Dutch expansion when Dutch society was extremely rich In its five universities and its highly literate population internationally acknowledged scholarship arts and sciences flowered Did really nothing of all this vitality rub off on the public religion Rather than the traditional static image of a rather joyless and ossified orthodoxy an exploration of the interface between the Reformed church and Dutch society at large reveals a religious culture that had much to offer to various audiences in the sphere of knowledge production as well as in the form of spiritual solace and everything in between Animal Trade Histories in the Indian Ocean World Martha Chaiklin,Philip Gooding,Gwyn Campbell,2020-07-21 This book examines trades in animals and animal products in the history of the Indian Ocean World IOW An international array of established and emerging scholars investigate how the roles of equines ungulates sub ungulates mollusks and avians expand our understandings of commerce human societies and world systems Focusing primarily on the period 1500 1900 they explore how animals and their products shaped the relationships between populations in the IOW and Europeans arriving by maritime routes By elucidating this fundamental yet under explored aspect of encounters and exchanges in the IOW these interdisciplinary essays further our understanding of the region the environment and the material political and economic history of the world
