De Wateren Van De Lage Landen:

De Zeven Woorden van de Lage Landen Frank Judo, Gui van Gorp & Remi Hauman, 2022-03-22 Denk je in dat ergens in de Late Middeleeuwen een grote stormvloed de kust had verlegd naar waar nu de Duitse oostgrens en de Franse noordgrens liggen De Lage Landen zouden dan niet langer bij maar onder de zee liggen Wat zou de wereld dan gemist hebben Veel en niet veel is het juiste antwoord want allicht zouden sommige vondsten die ooit in de Nederlanden gebeurden elders plaatsgevonden hebben Op een feestavond is zo'n denkoefening wel leuk en ook zinvol zeker als je ze overlaat aan mensen die een gedegen kennis van het verleden combineren met een tegendraadse blik op het heden Daarom heeft het Algemeen Nederlands Verbond bij gelegenheid van zijn eigen 125ste verjaardag en die van haar verenigingsblad Neerlandia zeven auteurs gevraagd de kern van de Lage Landen samen te vatten rond evenveel woorden God water taal vrijheid smaak weven en muziek Het resultaat leest als iets tussen een Hollands stilleven en een fantasie van Jeroen Bosch Duizend jaar weer, wind en water in de Lage Landen J. Buisman, 1995 Water Lotte Jensen, 2024-01-19 Floods are a fundamental part of Dutch history Indeed having tamed the threats associated with living below sea level is part of Dutch national identity In the cultural depictions of these devastating events however national pride at a certain collective resilience goes hand in hand with the collective trauma of exposed vulnerability All too often the Dutch were the losers in these battles against the elements In a time of rising global sea levels cultural scholar Lotte Jensen dives into the stories and images of the past to unpack this paradox for today Over the centuries large parts of the Netherlands have been progressively reclaimed from its river delta home Throughout that process the country suffered countless floods a number of which were truly catastrophic such as the Saint Elizabeth's Flood of 1421 or the North Sea Flood of 1953 Jensen describes how the Dutch have dealt with these disasters in practice but also in the imagination It is the story of babies in floating cradles fatherly monarchs community fundraisers and the boy who stuck his finger in the dike Centuries before the nation building associated with the 1800s the Dutch created a unifying us the image of the Dutch lion against a them the waterwolf the major threat which water embodied This national feeling and narrative were crafted with a set repertoire of images role models heroes and monarchs charity national and international solidarity and a culture of remembrance Jensen gives particular attention to the at times funny poems books and songs later criticized as clichéd or melodramatic which these collective traumas inspired She also demonstrates through monuments and works of art how this narrative has multiplied and acquired variations with time right up to the present Though once cast in a more religious light the flood as punishment for a general lack of religious devotion the waterwolf has become for example a collective responsibility for the environment that begins with lifestyle choices Today the Netherlands lives with water more than it battles it some thinkers even envisioning an amphibian future for the country The stories and images of the past however reveal that precisely vulnerability can be fertile ground for solidarity and togetherness With rising sea levels representing a growing threat this well researched and highly readable cultural history shows how over time a culture's imagination can gain new relevance beyond its borders Acknowledging and building from a place of collective vulnerability might now be more important than ever Building on Water Salvatore Ciriaco, 2006-05

A fundamental natural resource water and its use not only reflect modes of production but also that complex interplay between resources and their exploitation and domination by various social agents who in their turn are inevitably influenced by the abundance or rarity of water supplies Focusing on scientific social and economic issues from the 16th to the 19th century the author one of Italy's leading historians in this field looks at the innumerable conflicts that arose over water resources and the environmental impact of projects intended to control them Venice and Holland are undoubtedly the two most fascinating cases of societies built on water with the conquest of vast expanses of marshland either inland or on the coast the Dutch polders or the Venetian lagoon not only stimulating agricultural production but also nurturing a deeply felt relationship between the local populations and the element of water itself The author rounds off his study by looking at the influence the hydraulic technology developed in Holland would have on many European countries France England and Germany in particular and at questions raised by contemporaries about the environmental impact of agricultural progress and its effects upon the social economic equilibria within the communities concerned Water management, communities and environment Hilde Greefs, Marjolein 't Hart, 2006 More so than in most other countries water management was crucial in the Middle Ages and early modern era in the Low Countries where both man and the changing ecological conditions strongly affected the landscape Striking is the enormous variation in solutions to the water threat The authors in this Jaarboek voor Ecologische Geschiedenis primarily focus on the interaction between society and the environment social political and social economic factors prove to explain why the solutions implemented were sometimes sustainable and sometimes not The various case studies are introduced by Martin Reuss a water management specialist from the United States Handleiding tot de kennis der taktiek van de drie wapens, voor de kadetten van alle wapenen J.J. van Mulken, 1840 Two Centuries of Experience in Water Resources Management John Lonnquest, Bert Toussaint, Joe Manous, 2015-03-20 Water and Environment in Decision-making Judith M. van Dijk, 2008 Maatschappij-Belangen, 1870 Geschiedenis van de gemeenten der provincie Oost-Vlaanderen Frans De Potter, 1872
