De Zee ,1929 Nautisch technisch tijdschrift de zee ,1974 The Future of the Law of the Sea Leo J.

Bouchez,2013-12-01 It is no surprise that the subject The Future of the Law of the Sea meets with special interest in the Netherlands The sea is our element the roaring sea our glory as the old folksong says For a nation whose and prosperity are so closely connected with the sea it is of the fate utmost importance to which regime the nations that border upon sail and exploit the sea are subjected Until recently nobody worried about the legal regime of the sea The principle of the freedom of the sea since Hugo Grotius one of the strongest hardly assailable principles of inter national law was it not of paramount importance for the Netherlands Since the Second World War this security does not exist any more International Law is shaken in its foundations This law once anchored in the sense of justice of the then leading nations which certainly did not think similarly but to a certain extent along the same lines has been shaken by the development of groups which no longer accept these rules as the guiding principle of their actions The alarmingly scant willingness among the younger nations to accept the compulsory jurisdiction of the International Court and the scarce assignments conferred to that Court bear witness to this crisis More and more International Law is traversed by economical sociological political and power factors which are pushing aside the conceptions of law once considered stable Lijst van zeekaarten en zeevaartkundige

boeken , 1860 A World at Sea Lauren Benton,Nathan Perl-Rosenthal,2020-10-09 The past twenty five years have brought a dramatic expansion of scholarship in maritime history including new research on piracy long distance trade and seafaring cultures Yet maritime history still inhabits an isolated corner of world history according to editors Lauren Benton and Nathan Perl Rosenthal Benton and Perl Rosenthal urge historians to place the relationship between maritime and terrestrial processes at the center of the field and to analyze the links between global maritime practices and major transformations in world history A World at Sea consists of nine original essays that sharpen and expand our understanding of practices and processes across the land sea divide and the way they influenced global change The first section highlights the regulatory order of the seas as shaped by strategies of land based polities and their agents and by conflicts at sea The second section studies documentary practices that aggregated and conveyed information about sea voyages and encounters and it traces the wide ranging impact of the explosion of new information about the maritime world Probing the political symbolism of the land sea divide as a threshold of power the last section features essays that examine the relationship between littoral geographies and sociolegal practices spanning land and sea Maritime history the contributors show matters because the oceans were key sites of experimentation innovation and disruption that reflected and sparked wide ranging global change Contributors Lauren Benton Adam Clulow Xing Hang David Igler Jeppe Mulich Lisa Norling Nathan Perl Rosenthal Carla Rahn Phillips Catherine Phipps Matthew Raffety Margaret Schotte Tijdschrift toegewijd aan het zeewezen ,1835
