It is difficult to present a great battle with sufficient detail to please both the student of tactics and the average reader If the visitor is not satisfied with the brief outline here presented he is recommended to read further in the books listed and especially to employ a guide without whose trained and supervised services the best manual is inadequate The reader in search of romance is recommended to the successive Incidents of the Battle as herein presented According to official records the Gettysburg campaign of 1863 began on June 3rd and ended on August 1st No effort will be made to describe the movements counter movements and fifty minor engagements that occurred before the armies crossed the Mason and Dixon s line and finally concentrated at Gettysburg where they engaged in battle on July 1st 2nd and 3rd It is necessary however that the visitor should understand the approach to the field On June 3rd the Union Army called the Army of the Potomac lay at Falmouth Va on the north side of the Rappahannock River Major General Joseph Hooker in command The Confederate Army called the Army of Northern Virginia occupied the south bank with headquarters at Fredericksburg General Robert E Lee in command Both armies were resting after the major engagement at Chancellorsville in which the Confederates were victorious The Army of the Potomac was made up of seven infantry and one cavalry corps It numbered at the time of the battle approximately 84 000 The Army of Northern Virginia was made up of three infantry corps and one division of cavalry It numbered at the time of the battle about 75 000 Following the text is a roster of officers which should be consulted both for an understanding of the battle and because of the obligation to honor brave men During the month of May General Lee visited Richmond to discuss with the Confederate government various plans involving political and military considerations Up to this time the South had won the major victories but her resources both in men and sinews of war were diminishing and a prolonged conflict would be disastrous It was decided that the army should invade the North via the Shenandoah and Cumberland valleys with Harrisburg as an objective This route not only afforded a continuous highway but put the army in a position to threaten Baltimore Philadelphia and Washington from the north The Blue Ridge Mountains to the east would screen the advance and the rich agricultural section would furnish supplies of food and forage The time was propitious General Lee s army was in the prime of condition The North was discouraged by losses distrustful of Lincoln weary of war The South believed that one great victory would assure her the friendliness of the leading powers of Europe Her independence once acknowledged she could import the materials of war and the necessities of life which she lacked It was thought certain that at the prospect of invasion the North would withdraw troops from the siege of Vicksburg then being conducted by General Grant With high hopes the march was begun On June 3rd Lee put his army in motion northward with Ewell s Corps preceded by Jenkins and Imboden s Cavalry in the advance followed by Longstreet and lastly by Hill Longstreet moved on the east side of the Blue Ridge in order to lead Hooker to believe that Washington would be threatened On reaching Snicker s Gap he crossed the Ridge into the Shenandoah Valley and followed Hill who was now in advance The great army was strung out from Fredericksburg Va on the south to Martinsburg W Va on the north with the cavalry division under Stuart guarding the gaps along the Blue Ridge Since 1863 the population of Gettysburg has increased from 2 000 to 5 500 After driving out Union forces stationed at Winchester under Milroy Lee s Army crossed the Potomac at Williamsport and Shepherdstown on June 23rd 24th and 25th and advanced northward unopposed through the Cumberland Valley toward Harrisburg
