Clear as Mud Robert B. Olshansky, Laurie Johnson, 2017 Planning the rebuilding of New Orleans after Hurricanes Katrina and Rita has been among the greatest urban planning challenges of our time Since 2005 Robert B Olshansky and Laurie A Johnson urban planners who specialize in disaster planning and recovery have been working to understand in real time the difficult planning decisions in this unusual situation As both observers of and participants in the difficult process of creating the Unified New Orleans Plan Olshansky and Johnson bring unparalleled detail and insight to this complex story The recovery process has been slow and frustrating in part because New Orleans was so unprepared for the physical challenges of such a disaster but also because it lacked sufficient planning mechanisms to manage community reconstruction in a viable way New Orleans has had to rebuild its buildings and institutions but it has also had to create a community planning structure that is seen as both equitable and effective while also addressing the concerns and demands of state federal nonprofit and private sector stakeholders In documenting how this unprecedented process occurred Olshansky and Johnson spent years on the ground in New Orleans interviewing leaders and citizens and abetting the design and execution of the Unified New Orleans Plan Their insights will help cities across the globe recognize the challenges of rebuilding and recovering after disaster strikes Provided by publisher

Seidman, 2013-03-04 Coming Home to New Orleans documents grassroots rebuilding efforts in New Orleans neighborhoods after hurricane Katrina and draws lessons on their contribution to the post disaster recovery of cities The book begins with two chapters that address Katrina s impact and the planning and public sector recovery policies that set the context for neighborhood recovery Rebuilding narratives for six New Orleans neighborhoods are then presented and analyzed In the heavily flooded Broadmoor and Village de L Est neighborhoods residents coalesced around communitywide initiatives one through a neighborhood association and the second under church leadership to help homeowners return and restore housing get key public facilities and businesses rebuilt and create new community based organizations and civic capacity A comparison of four adjacent neighborhoods in the center of the city show how differing socioeconomic conditions geography government policies and neighborhood capacity created varied recovery trajectories

The concluding chapter argues that grassroots and neighborhood scale initiatives can make important contributions to city recovery in four areas repopulation restoring complete neighborhoods with key services and amenities rebuilding parts of the small business economy and enhancing recovery capacity It also calls for more balanced investments and policies to rebuild rental and owner occupied housing and more deliberate collaboration with community based organizations to undertake and implement recovery plans and proposes changes to federal disaster recovery policies and programs to leverage the contribution of grassroots rebuilding and more support for city recovery Rebuilding Asia Following Natural Disasters
