solvents The cases presented in Choosing Environmental Policy were selected to allow the sharpest most direct comparisons of direct regulation and incentive based strategies In practice environmental policy is often a mix of both types of instruments This innovative investigation will interest scholars students and policymakers who want more precise information as to what kind of blend will yield the most effective policy Are incentive instruments more efficient than regulatory ones Do regulatory policies necessarily have higher administrative costs Are incentive policies more difficult to monitor Are firms more likely to oppose market based instruments or traditional regulation These are some of the important questions the authors address often with surprising results
