Cutting Matta-Clark The Anarchitecture Project:

Gordon Matta-Clark Gordon Matta-Clark, 2022-10-25 An essential reference that provides new understanding of the thought processes of one of the most radical artists of the late twentieth century Gordon Matta Clark 1943 1978 has never been an easy artist to categorize or to explain Although trained as an architect he has been described as a sculptor a photographer an organizer of performances and a writer of manifestos but he is best known for un building abandoned structures In the brief span of his career from 1968 to his early death in 1978 he created an oeuvre that has made him an enduring cult figure In 2002 when Gordon Matta Clark s widow Jane Crawford put his archive on deposit at the Canadian Centre for Architecture in Montreal it revealed a new voice in the ongoing discussion of artist architect Matta Clark s work his own Gwendolyn Owens and Philip Ursprung s careful selection and ordering of letters interviews statements and the now famous art cards from the CCA as well as other sources deepens our understanding of one of the most original thinkers of his generation Gordon Matta Clark An Archival Sourcebook creates a multidimensional portrait that provides an opportunity for readers to explore and enjoy the complexity and contradiction that was Gordon Matta Clark Cartographies of New York and Other Postwar American Cities Monica Manolescu, 2018-10-03 Cartographies of New York and Other Postwar American Cities Art Literature and Urban Spaces explores phenomena of urban mapping in the discourses and strategies of a variety of postwar artists and practitioners of space Allan Kaprow Claes Oldenburg Vito Acconci Gordon Matta Clark Robert Smithson Rebecca Solnit Matthew Buckingham contemporary Situationist projects The distinctive approach of the book highlights the interplay between texts and site oriented practices which have often been treated separately in critical discussions Monica Manolescu considers spatial investigations that engage with the historical and social conditions of the urban environment and reflect on its mediated nature Cartographic procedures that involve walking and surveying are interpreted as unsettling and subversive possibilities of representing and navigating the postwar American city The book posits mapping as a critical nexus that opens up new ways of studying some of the most important postwar artistic engagements with New York and other American cities An Anarchitectural Body of Work Friederike Schäfer, 2025-05-19

The artist dancer and educator Suzanne Harris 1940 79 was a protagonist of the downtown New York City artists community in the 1970s With her boundary transgressing practice she played a decisive part in avant garde projects such as the Anarchitecture group 112 Greene Street FOOD and the Natural History of the American Dancer Harris furthermore participated in the Heresies editorial collective Nevertheless her own oeuvre fell into abeyance Friederike Schäfer reconstructs Harris s dispersed postminimalist body of work which broke the mold of art categories art practices art spaces and the common notion of space The author draws on post Marxist feminist theory to trace how Harris transcended both sculpture and dance to create site specific ephemeral installations Second revised edition Recipient of the Terra Foundation for American Art International Publication Grant 2021 Look Inside Gordon Matta-Clark: The Beginning of Trees and the End Gordon Matta-Clark, 2016-06-14 Documenting the artist's extraordinary accomplishments as a draftsman this publication originates from the 2015 solo presentation at David Zwirner New York entitled Energy slicing meticulously through several layers of paper gesso or cardboard Matta Clark created sculptural flat works that emphasized the voids created by the extraction of matter Drawings with his own calligraphy emphasize the medium of drawing as an independent form Abstract letters make up a code that remains indecipherable but points toward a visionary longing to invent new languages and structures of experience Some of the most elaborate and colorful compositions include trees several of which refer explicitly to Matta Clark's Tree Dance performance at Vassar College in upstate New York in 1971 In full color plates the reader can see the physical structure of his trees dissolving into kinetic energy and in some drawings becoming reduced to a multitude of arrows Near abstract tree shapes also incorporate his calligraphic marks with branches constructed from imaginary letters again emphasizing the importance of language to a new visual experience Matta Clark's notebooks which he often insisted on completing in a single sitting are presented in elegantly curated groups Combining elements of Surrealist automatic drawing with an interest in choreography these works appealed to performance artists at the time including Laurie Anderson and Trisha Brown This unparalleled presentation of Matta Clark's drawings is accompanied by new and exciting scholarship by Briony Fer as well as a conversation between Jessamyn Fiore and contemporary artist Sarah Sze it marks a major contribution to the literature on this highly influential artist

The Monster Leviathan Aaron Betsky, 2024-01-09 Visionary proposals for a mythic and strange architecture or anarchitecture through which we can imagine other and better worlds Lurking under the surface of our modern world lies an unseen architecture or anarchitecture It is a possible architecture an analogous architecture an architecture of anarchy which haunts in the form of monsters that are humans and machines and cities all at once or takes the form of explosions veils queer playful spaces or visions from artwork and video games In The Monster Leviathan Aaron Betsky traces anarchitecture through texts design and art of the twentieth and early twenty first century and suggests that these ephemeral evocations are concrete proposals in and of themselves Neither working models nor suggestions for new forms they are scenes just believable enough to convince us they exist or just fantastical enough to open our eyes The Monster Leviathan gives students and lovers of architecture as well as those hoping to construct a better more sustainable and socially just future a set of tools through which they can imagine that such other worlds are possible As Betsky eloquently articulates anarchitecture already exists and does not exist at all It is the myth of building and all we have to do is find it

Gordon Matta-Clark Frances Richard, 2019-03-26 Bringing a poet's perspective to an artist's archive this highly original book examines wordplay in the art and thought of American artist Gordon Matta Clark 1943 1978 A pivotal figure in the postminimalist generation who was also the son of a prominent Surrealist Matta Clark was a leader in the downtown artists community in New York in the 1970s and is widely seen as a pioneer of what has come to be known as social practice art He is celebrated for his anarchitectural environments and performances and the films photographs drawings and sculptural fragments with which his site specific work was documented In studies of his career the artist s provocative and vivid language is referenced constantly Yet the verbal aspect of his practice has not previously been examined in its own right Blending close readings of Matta Clark s visual and verbal creations with reception history and critical biography this extensively researched study engages with the linguistic and semiotic forms in Matta Clark s art forms that activate what he called the poetics of psycho locus and total semiotic system Examining notes statements titles letters and interviews in light of what they reveal about his work at large Frances Richard unearths archival biographical and historical information linking Matta Clark to Conceptualist peers and Surrealist and Dada forebears Gordon Matta Clark Physical Poetics explores the paradoxical durability of Matta Clark s language and its role in an aggressively physical oeuvre whose major works have been destroyed Gordon Matta-Clark? Conical Intersect Peter Muir,2017-07-05 In this in depth analysis Peter Muir argues that Gordon Matta Clark s Conical Intersect 1975 is emblematic of Henri Lefebvre s understanding of art s function in relation to urban space By engaging with Lefebvre s theory in conjunction with the perspectives of other writers such as Michel de Certeau Jacques Derrida and George Bataille the book elicits a story that presents the artwork s significance origins and legacies Conical Intersect is a multi media artwork which involves the intersections of architecture sculpture film and photography as well as being a three dimensional model that reflects aspects of urban art and architectural theory along with a number of cultural and historiographic discourses which are still present and active This book navigates these many complex narratives by using the central hole of Conical Intersect as its focal point this apparently vacuous circle around which the events documents and other historical or theoretical references surrounding Matta Clark s project are perpetually in circulation Thus Conical Intersect is imagined as an insatiable absence around which discourses continually form dissipate and resolve Muir argues that Conical Intersect is much more than an artistic hole Due to its location at Plateau Beaubourg in Paris it is simultaneously an object of art and an instrument of social critique

Gordon Matta-Clark Antonio Sergio Bessa,Jessamyn Fiore,2017-01-01 This revealing book looks at the groundbreaking work of Gordon Matta Clark 1943 1978 whose socially conscious practice blurred the boundaries between contemporary art and architecture After completing a degree in architecture at Cornell University Matta Clark returned to his home city of New York where he initiated a series of site specific works in derelict areas of the South Bronx The borough s many abandoned buildings the result of economic decline and middle class flight served as Matta Clark s raw material His series Bronx Floors dissected these structures performing an anatomical study of their ravaged urban landscape Moving from New York to Paris with Conical Intersect a piece that became emblematic of artistic protest Matta Clark applied this same method to a pair of seventeenth century row houses slated for demolition as a result of the Centre Pompidou s construction This compelling volume grounds Matta Clark s practice against the framework of architectural and urban history stressing his pioneering activist inspired approach as well as his contribution to the nascent fields of social practice and relational aesthetics Gordon Matta-Clark Stephen Walker, 2011-05-10 Known for and even overshadowed by his brutal and spectacular building cuts Gordon Matta Clark's oeuvre is unique in the history of American art. He worked in the 1970s on the borders between art and architecture and his diverse practice is often understood as an outright rejection of the tenets of high modernism. Stephen Walker argues instead for the artist's ambivalent relationship with the architectural heritage he is often claimed to disavow, thus making this the first book to extrapolate Matta Clark's thinking beyond its immediate context. Walker considers the broad range of Matta Clark's ephemeral practice from montage to actual interventions and from performance art and installation to drawing, film and video. Bringing to the fore the consistent themes and issues explored through this broad range of media and in particular the complex notion of the discreet violation, he reveals the continued relevance of Matta Clark's artistic and theoretical oeuvre to the reception of artistic and architectural work today.
